WASHINGTON, April 28.—President Roosevelt today gave assurance of his purpose to participate in the Georgia preferential primary by personally signing the necessary entry papers signifying his candidacy for re-nomination.

The papers were taken to the White House by Senator Richard B. Russell Jr., of Georgia, in company with Marion Allen, Roosevelt manager for the state, and Frank Scarlett, of Brunswick, who arrived in Washington for that purpose this morning. Later the three of them called on Postmaster General James A. Farley, national party chairman, for a conference on the state situation.

Senator Walter F. George had been scheduled to go to the White House with the group, but was prevented from doing so by the calling up of his vocational education bill, which passed the upper chamber during the day.

Support Is Assured.
Both President Roosevelt and National Chairman Farley were told by Manager Allen that Georgia is sure to go overwhelmingly for the chief executive if any one files against him in the primary, set for June 3. At the same time, however, he expressed doubt that it would be necessary to hold a primary which is to be conducted only in the event two or more candidates file.

Splendid progress was reported by Allen in raising the $10,000 entrance fee named by the Talmadge-controlled state democratic executive committee.
Party officials here were assured that it will not be necessary to go outside the state in obtaining the full amount.

While at the White House Manager Allen left with the President.

Chicago-New Orleans Mark Set by Doolittle

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 28.—
(UP)—Major James Doolittle landed a transport plane at Shushan airport at 8:19 p. m. (Atlanta time), 5 hours and 55 minutes out of Chicago, to break all speed records between the two cities. The old transport record was 7 hours, 15 minutes.

He left Chicago at 12:24 p. m.
(Atlanta time), flying a Lockheed Electra, 10-place plane. The trip was sponsored by the Chicago and Southern Air Lines, which will put four of the planes, capable of 200 miles an hour, into service on the Chicago-New Orleans run May 1, cutting the scheduled time between the cities to six hours.

In addition to two pilots, there were eight passengers aboard the ship.

Egyptian Monarch Dies

KING FUAD I.

KING FUAD DIES; REGENCY PLANNED

Son of Monarch, Prince Farouk, 16, To Gain Throne in Two Years.

CAIRO, Egypt, April 28.—(UP)— Egypt's King Fuad I died today a few hours after he had insisted he would not and the throne of the ancient Pharaohs passed to a 16-year-old boy.
"I am not going to die," whispered the 68-year-old monarch from his deathbed shortly before the end. But he succumbed, despite an encouraging morning rally.

He will be buried in El Rafai mosque, a hillside citadel he built himself, facing across the Nile toward the Sahara desert.

Political strife which has torn the country in recent months, including bloody anti-British rioting, was complicated by the death of Fuad, placed in power by Great Britain during World War days.

His only son, 16-year-old Crown Prince Farouk, who is studying in England, was notified of the death.

The young prince, who was preparing for entrance to the Royal Military Academy, at Woolwich, is expected to return here to face a life sharply contrasting with schoolboy days in England.

Regency Anticipated.
Farouk, who is six feet tall, will reign under a regency for two years, but the exact procedure is confused, owing to the fact that the constitution of 1923 provides regents cannot function until they have taken an oath in the presence of parliament.

The present chamber was recently dissolved and elections are to be held May 2. Premier Ali Pasha Maher has a sealed envelope containing the names of three men written by Fuad on a sheet of paper to serve as regents. It has not been opened.

Fuad was born March 20, 1868.
Until he was 10 years old, he attended a special school in Cairo, then spent two years at school in Geneva and later attended the Italian Military school at Turin, where Victor

EMBATTLED BOARD MEETS TOMORROW, WRANGLERS AVER

Bridges and Couch Spike
Rumors of Cancellation.
Move Started To Give Key, Chief Sole Control.

Councilmen G. Dan Bridges, chairman, and J. Allen Couch, arch enemies on the strife-torn police committee, yesterday spiked rumors that no meeting of the police committee will be held at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night and both announced their intention to attend.

The decision of the leaders of the two conflicting factions on the committee was regarded as a certain indication that the committee will convene.

It came as Alderman Ed A. Gilliam, former member of the police committee and former mayor pro tem, suggested that council might empower Key to direct and control the police department through a councilmanic sanction at its meeting Monday.

Move Termed Legal.
Although Gilliam declined to assume responsibility for championing the latest move to solve the involved police muddle, he commented on it at length, and City Attorney Jack C.

Savage said council has complete authority to vest supervision of the police department on a committee or in the mayor at its discretion.

During the day there were recurring reports that neither Bridges nor Couch planned to attend Thursday night's meeting of the committee.
They are the only two members of the committee who have not resigned, but the resignations of Alderman William H. Joyner and Councilmen Alvin
L. Richards and Horace M. Rantlin, other members, have not yet been accepted by Key.

"I'll be there," Bridges said. "The meeting has not been called off. I am still a member of the committee and have no idea of resigning."

"Of course I'll attend," was Couch's comment.
Couch has resigned but appended

SHOCK TERRORIZES HUNGRY CHINESE

Szechwan Province, With

CHUNGKING, SZECHWAN
PROVINCE, China, April 28.—(UP)—
A heavy earthquake today terrorized residents of Szechwan province, already in the grip of a famine, with an estimated 10,000,000 to 20,000,000 facing death or already dead.

The quake did little damage here,
but greatly alarmed the population.
Damage in remote sections, however,
was undetermined.

The shock was believed to have extended throughout west China. It followed one on Monday which shook Tachienlu on the Tibetan border, and which was the worst recorded in many years.

Cobb Says: Astor 'Yachtless' Now

PALM SPRINGS, Cal., April 28.
Politics certainly makes estranged bed-fellows.

But the presidential campaign or two behind us and across the scene with thunderous tread stalk the sacred white cows of big money, their udders dripping wisdom, their gentle, lowing, harkened to with eager ears by candidates and delegates alike. Statecraft mingled with high finance was what they offered in a rich and creamy measure to one and all—the pontifical Mitchell, the omnipotent Dawes, the infallible In-sull, the wondrous Wiggin (subsequently known as the uncovered Wiggin). And, lo, the voice of the Owen D. Young was heard in the land.

But now, alas, where are the Baruchas of yesterday?
Why, if this summer the average distinguished or, as the case may be, extinguished international banker tries to get into either national conventions, they'll charge him admission. In fact, the Liberty League is about the only outfit left that wouldn't blacklist a fellow who admitted to owing as much as $2.75

And as for Vincent Astor and his private yacht—well, between now and election day he wouldn't even suspect Vincent Astor had a yacht.

Billion Asked by Waterways Body; Florida Canal Included in Program

Surveys of Projects in Georgia Are Recommended; Roosevelt Says Flood Control Is Problem for Federal and Local Governments.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—(UP)—A billion-dollar navigation and flood control program, embracing the con-gressionally-abandoned Florida ship canal, today was asked of the federal government by the National Rivers and Harbors Congress.

While the congress was deciding without debate, that a list of 113 projects was "sound, needful and sufficiently advanced in status and should be promptly constructed in the public interest," President Roosevelt, at a press conference, said he viewed flood control a problem of both the federal and local governments.

The most essential part of flood control, he said, was regulation of streams at headwaters. Municipalities and states should share some of the cost of flood control at headwaters, he said, adding that it would be wise to adopt a pro rata system of distributing expenditures between local and federal governments.

In discussing flood control, Mr.
Roosevelt emphasized he was not speaking in connection with the omnibus flood control bill now pending in congress, which he said he had not yet had opportunity to study.

The flood control bill and the Overton bill to extend flood control works on the lower Mississippi were introduced in congress today.

By the rivers and harbors congress which urged also that army engineers be directed to carry out a "sound policy of national flood control."

While the congress recommended completion of work on the Florida canal, it took no action on the two other huge projects which have been rejected by the senate, the St. Lawrence waterway and the Passamaquoddy Bay tidal project in Maine.

Representative Driver, democrat, Arkansas, chairman of the committee which selects approved projects, explained that these two were not formally brought before his committee.

Funds for both the ship canal and the Passamaquoddy, both started with relief allotments, were eliminated by the senate from the rivers and harbors bill.

In other resolutions, the congress asserted that flood control and navigation projects gave larger benefits than any other form of public work.

Taking cognizance of a plea by Secretary Wallace to hold back floods "at the grass roots," the congress said,
"we endorse a long-range policy to preserve the public domain. We favor a program of conservation of soil and water resources; we advocate reforestation and soil conservation to the

HOUSE WILL VOTE ON TAX BILL TODAY

Democrats Make Four Changes in Measure, Halt Republican Move.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—(UP)—
Shouting down all non-administration attempts to alter the $800,000,000 tax bill, the house today swept the complicated corporate tax revision plan through the amendment stage and virtually assured its final passage tomorrow.

Only four changes were made in the original measure. All were sponsored by the democratic members of the house ways and means committee, who drafted the program. In the tumult of the four voice votes not a single dissent could be heard.

Republicans, who had assailed the plan as "vicious," dangerous and unsound, for the most part stood silently by. Only a single republican effort was made to amend the bill. It proved futile. Minority leaders conceded themselves without hope of blocking

When a final minority attempt was made to sidetrack the big measure by sending it back to the ways and means committee, the amendment was beaten down by a shouted vote that all but shook the walls of the chamber.

To Remodel Structure.
The bill which took almost certainly will go to the senate before tomorrow nightfall is intended to remodel completely the existing corporation tax structure.

It calls for a graduated tax on undistributed corporate income, designed to raise $200,000,000 of additional annual revenue when coupled with the removal of the present exemption of dividends from the normal 6 per cent income tax. It will seek another $100,000,000 through an 80 per cent "windfall" tax on processors who avoided payment of AAA processing levies. Through delaying the report of present excess profits and capital stock taxes another $88,000,000 is anticipated by the treasury.

Two of the four amendments accepted today were aimed at eliminating a $100,000,000 "tax" in revenue production the first year. One directed at the "tax" on excess profits, the other on the tax on undistributed income. The first amendment would pay on earnings used to meet deficits. The final one provided that a 10 per cent tax on undistributed income be reimbursed to non-resident aliens by foreign corporations with American offices or places of business, should apply only when the corporations obtained 85 per cent or more of their income in the United States.

Torrio Is Freed on $104,000 Bail After 6 Days of Federal Detention

NEW YORK, April 28.—(UP)—John Torrio's wife hailed him out today, and he required $104,000 in cash to do it.
Torrio, reputed underworld mentor of Al Capone, returned to his home in White Plains after spending the last six nights in a federal detention cell and part of this afternoon in the tomb.

Arrested by government agents last Wednesday on a charge of conspiracy to evade liquor taxes, the former Chicago gang leader was turned over to city police when his wife posted $100-000 bail.

Detention lodged him in the tomb of a forger, charge growing out of a $150,000 promissory note.
A half-hour later his matronly-looking wife appeared with another handful of currency and effected his release in $4,000 bail on no-forger charge.

ROOSEVELT BLANKS COL. BRECKINRIDGE IN PENNSYLVANIA

F. D. R. Is Leading Opponent by 17 to 1, With 180,804 Votes for First
1,907 of State's Districts

PHILADELPHIA, April 29 (Wednesday)—(UP)—Mounting returns in Pennsylvania's democratic presidential preferential primary early today gave President Roosevelt a 17-to-1 lead over Colonel Henry Breckinridge, the first candidate to oppose the chief executive's renomination in state-wide balloting.

Returns from 1,907 of the 7,983 districts in the state showed:
Roosevelt 180,804
Breckinridge 10,927

At the same time, Senator William E. Borah polled 104,304 in 1,833 districts, as the lone candidate in the republican preferential, although there were scattered "write-in" votes for Governor Alf M. Landon, of Kansas, former President Herbert Hoover and Senator Arthur Vandenberg, of Michigan.

17-to-1 Lead.
In Philadelphia, with 593 of 1,285 districts in the President held a 17-to-1 lead over Breckinridge, 63,899 to 3,796. In the same districts, Borah had 33,646.

The same proportion in the voting existed in Dauphin county, in which is the capital city, Harrisburg. There, in 75 districts, the vote was: Roosevelt, 8,535; Breckinridge, 501, and Borah, 5,027.

The anthracite regions of northeastern Pennsylvania showed considerable strength for the republican candidate, Lockawanna county, with 33 of 249 districts in, gave Borah 8,076. The same districts polled 8,708 for Roosevelt. In neighboring Luzerne county, Borah had 4,322 votes in 96 of 400 districts, and the President had 8,247.

Breckinridge ran far behind the President in every county.

The preferential primary, results of which are not binding on the state's electors, was held today.

RAILS TO OPPOSE FARE CUT IN COURT

Eastern Lines, 'Under Protest,' Accept Rate
Setup Ordered by I. C. C.

NEW YORK, April 28.—(UP)— Eastern railroads today accepted
"under protest" the Interstate Commerce Commission's order cutting passenger rates to 2 cents a mile, which will give the east the lowest uniform rate of rail transportation costs for this century.

The eastern roads' protest, it was made known, is more than a gesture, for it is their intention to seek a judicial opinion on the validity of the commission's order. The new tariffs will be filed without delay and the reduced rates will become effective June 2, next.

With adoption of the new tariffs, in the existing rate structure of 3.6 cents a mile in coaches and 4 cents in Pullmans, effective since 1920, will be come railroad history, unless restored later by court decree.

The Pullman surcharge also will be dropped under the commission's order.
The new mileage rate in Pullmans will be 3 cents.

Announcement of the roads' intention to lower the fares pending a contest in the courts followed a session of the eastern presidents conference.
It was made in behalf of "a majority of the carriers, but it excluded Baltimore & Ohio and its affiliates, Philadelphia & Reading and Central Railroad of New Jersey. Baltimore & Ohio did not oppose the ordered cut.

Through Daniel Willard, its president, it supported the move for fare reduction.

Girl's Lung Refuses To Yield Metal Cap

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 28.— (UP)—Surgeons were unsuccessful in an attempt today to remove an inch-long cigaret lighter top from the left lung of Pauline Lane, 16, during a half-hour operation. She was removed from a hospital operating room with her condition described as "serious."

A hospital physician explained that the object, which has been in Pauline's lung since last Friday, had "turned crossways," making it impossible to extract it with specially designed forceps rushed here from Philadelphia.

A physician explained that not-thing could be done immediately to remove the object. It is planned to await developments in her condition.
Operations of this type, he said, cannot be repeated under four or five days.

BUSINESS WARNED TO HIRE JOBLESS

Unemployment or Taxation Alternative Hinted
by Commerce Secretary.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—(UP)—
Promising the co-operation of the government, Secretary Roper today told the Chamber of Commerce of the United States that since business must pay the bills, it should develop a broad plan for thinning the ranks of the jobless.

After hearing Harper Sibley, chamber president, make a plea for cooperative action to put the idle back to work, Roper, in an address which his audience understood had White House approval, said:

"If a substantial measure of increased re-employment does not take place, the taxation for relief purposes will come largely from business earnings. Thus, facing the problem frankly, there must be re-employment or a longer period of increased taxation."

Roper, saying there "has never been a greater need for a mutual understanding between government and business," listed 10 fields for study by business in seeking to meet the unemployment problem.

Sibley told his colleagues resources are at hand to increase employment.
The real question in attacking the problem, he said, was whether the "characteristically American principle of economic freedom is to be maintained, or is to be circumscribed by government controls."

Condemnation Hit.
"Our ill," he said, "has not to be cured by the flying of business by the politician, or condemnation of politics by the businessman."

A third speaker, Charles H. Brown, president of Johns-Manville Corporation—contended that the modern paradox of improving business and continuing unemployment was due to New Deal experimentation in what he called "planned economy" and an "economy of scarcity."

He asserted that government officials were demanding that industry "arbitrarily" absorb more of the unemployed and assailed the demands as based on "false premises."

Brown concluded his speech with:
"And to those who insist upon keeping to a plan that has demonstrated its inadequacy, we are inclined to refer them to that never-to-be-forgotten statement made many years ago in England by Oliver Cromwell to the theologians when he said, 'In the name of the Lord, I beseech you brethren, consider it possible that you may be mistaken.'"

The delegates sprang to their feet cheering wildly. Young New York financier, crossed from his seat on the platform to grasp Brown's hand.

In his address which presented an

KING FUAD SUCCEEDS; SON TO GAIN THRONE

Emmanuel, now king of Italy, also was a cadet.

King Fuad was twice married and is survived by Crown Prince Farouk and five daughters.

In 1896, he married Princess Chivekar and had one daughter, Princess Fawzia. Later Fuad and Princess Chivekar were divorced.

His second marriage was to Princess Nafis in 1919. Farouk was the first child of this marriage. The others were the Princesses Fawzia, Fadia, Fadia and Fadia.

He became king in March, 1922, when Great Britain relinquished its protectorate, having been made khedive in 1917. Negotiations with Britain have been under way for a treaty of alliance.

First crowned ruler of Egypt in 2,000 years of the ancient land's later history, King Fuad I won for himself recognition as a wise and congenial monarch. In recent years his reign was marred by a recurrent crisis springing from nationalist antipathy toward Great Britain's influence.

Recent Crisis.

In 1935 he found his land again torn by anti-British riots which threatened to dislodge the cabinet and precipitate a crisis with Great Britain. On the eve of the cabinet's planned resignation, in December, he decreed restoration of the 1923 constitution, which he had suspended a year before.

The move restored a semblance of peace among the country's opposing political groups and the cabinet did not fall.

The wafist, or nationalist, party's agitation had furnished frequent cause for concern in the ramifications of British-Egyptian relations, with Britain constantly alert to protect her Suez and Sudanese interests, and with anti-British forces within Egypt bitterly resentful of the sort of protectionist relationship the empire sought to preserve.

Crisis of 1927.

In 1927 there had been another British crisis in which the empire countered in the assassination of one of its officials by presenting an ultimatum at whose stringent terms for British security the Egyptian premier quibbled and finally balked a tirely. The internal situation was aggravated the following year. In June a newspaper published photographs purporting to show documents which, if genuine, connected the Premier Nafas Pasha and certain colleagues with an unsavory intrigue.

Seizing the opportunity to tighten his rule, King Fuad forced Premier Nafas from office the next month, dismissed parliament for three years, and announced he would take the reins of government into his own hands. Later he made Mahmud Pasha, liberal leader, premier under his hand.

delegates to the national conventions, shared interest with fights for congressional nominations and minor offices in a colorless pre-primary campaign.

Among the former was the battle in the fifth district of Philadelphia for the republican nomination, in which former Representative James J. Connelley, running ahead of the dynamic Mrs. Cornelia Bryce Pinchot, wife of the former governor. The vote was 4,509 to 3,339 in 44 of the 188 districts.

Although an old election law would make Borah the "popular choice" unless a "write-in" candidate received more votes, republican organization leaders planned an unopposed delegation to the Cleveland convention.

Political observers looked to the results for a possible indication of the trend of the industrial east.

Brechinidge and his friends made no campaign and he did not appear in the state except to file nominating petitions. New Deal forces under the leadership of Senator Joseph P. Guffey and the state administration made an effort to get out the full democratic vote for Roosevelt.

It was the second time that Roosevelt ran in a Pennsylvania primary. Four years ago in the preferential balloting he received 133,002 votes, Alfred E. Smith's 101,227. The November balloting of 1932 gave Roosevelt 453,450, and Hoover 157,592.

Since then the democrats elected Governor George H. Earle and got control of the state house of representatives. They have been predicted that Pennsylvania will be democratic in 1936. Not since before 1860 has the state turned in for a democrat for president. The last was a "favorite son," James Buchanan.

The democrats elected 84 delegates to the national convention with a total of 72 votes. The republicans named 75, each with one vote.

In addition to two delegates for each senator and representative in congress, the republican rules allowed three extra votes to states carried by Hoover in 1932.

The democrats totaled 84 by the election of 16 delegates at large, each with a quarter-vote, instead of four with one vote each.

GOVERNOR LONDON HOLDS LARGE MAJORITY.

BOSTON, April 28.—(AP)—Governor Alvin D. London, of Kansas, held a large majority tonight as tabulation of the republican presidential preference vote in the Massachusetts primary neared the halfway mark.

The London-President Club of Massachusetts has been active for weeks urging voters to "write in" the Kansas governor's name in a place on the ballot provided by Massachusetts law at the primary to choose delegates to the national and state conventions. The vote binds delegates in no way, however.

Returns from 741 election precincts out of 1,329, including 150 districts in Boston, gave:

Borah 1,889; Hoover 3,005; Knox 935; London 32,212; Vandenberg, 922.

The majority of democratic preferences were for President Roosevelt but no attempt was being made to tabulate his complete vote. It probably won't be available for several days.

In Boston Roosevelt received 3,785 votes in 106 precincts, while London got 4,052 in 160 precincts, being 277 more votes than President Roosevelt and London's vote was in 54 more precincts.

Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, radio priest, received 259 votes in the 106 Boston precincts tabulated at midnight and former Governor Joseph B. Ely, a New Deal foe, 40.

Thirty-three unpledged delegates were elected to the republican national convention. Democrats had a full slate pledged to Roosevelt in the bid for 38 delegate places.

More than 700 delegates were chosen to the republican and democratic state conventions which will be held in June.

LEGIONNAIRES CITED FOR TORNADO SERVICE

Eleven Legionnaires of East Point Post No. 51 were cited Monday night for distinguished service during the relief work following the Gainesville tornado April 6. Colonel E. L. Humphreys, presented the citations.

Those honored were Dr. Preston Sumner, post commander; Fred O. Coleman, George Albert McDuffie, William A. Chandler, Charles H. Watts, Herbert A. Little, Harrison Blake, Herbert H. Martin, Louis O. Mattison, Ocie J. Price and John Paul Berry.

Principal speaker at the meeting was Judge James C. Davis, of the Stone Mountain circuit.

JAMES M. GOLDSMITH 97 YEARS OLD TODAY

Pioneer Atlantan To Observe Quiet Birthday at Home of Daughter.

James M. Goldsmith, one of Atlanta's oldest citizens, will be "97 years young" today and expects to observe a quiet birthday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. L. McGill, 504 Boulevard, N. E.

For more than half a century Mr. Goldsmith was one of the best-known local figures, and held many responsible positions.

The first issue of The Constitution was eagerly scrutinized 68 years ago by his youthful eyes and this morning it will be read to him by members of his family, as it has been every day since his eyesight began to fail.

Goldsmith, a mere youth, answered the first call for Georgia volunteers in the War Between the States, and served throughout the conflict. His birthday today in a quiet peaceful community in the serene surroundings of his family, will contrast sharply with four other birthdays spent while he gallantly fought beside other southern heroes to sustain the lost cause.

He was a member of the First Georgia battalion and was wounded in an engagement with federal near Winchester, Va.

Returning to Georgia after the war, he farmed at Stone Mountain, became connected with The Southern Cultivator later and served on various tickets at the Fulton county courthouse, including the late Tom Miller and Arnold Bayless.

He and Mrs. Goldsmith spent 68 years as a happily married couple until her death about eight years ago. She was Miss Ann Ellen Dent, daughter of the late W. B. Dent, of Newnan.

There are three living children in addition to Mrs. McGill, J. D. and W. Manning, of Atlanta, and Mrs. J. E. Miller, of Columbus. In addition there are 13 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren.

Ill health will prevent the extensive observance which have marked other birthdays, but Goldsmith yesterday predicted he will "be in Atlanta to celebrate my 100th birthday."

the forgery charge was presented on May 11, 1935, to Samuel Borden, vice president of Prendergast Davies Company, by a man known to Borden as John McCarthy.

When a further, whose name was used as the signer of the note, denounced it as a forgery, Borden complained to the district attorney. Detectives showed him a photograph of Torrio and later said he had identified it as a likeness of "McCarthy."

Torrio formerly owned a substantial block of stock in Prendergast Davies Company, federal agents said. He longer is connected with the concern.

Attorneys for the company, wholesale liquor dealers, said in a statement they did not know what connection Torrio had with the company prior to July, 1935, but that he has none now.

starving parents are selling their children.

The famine conditions were laid to repeated floods, which were followed by unusually dry summers, after communist soldiers had swept the country for two years.

American missionary doctors said millions of Chinese are suffering "deficiency" diseases which would inevitably kill them.

Conditions in Honan, central China province, were said to be worse than at any time since 1920, when millions died because of floods and droughts.

Three banks in Szechwan province have raised a loan of about $180,000 to purchase seed for rice crops, but informed persons described this as merely a "drop in the bucket."

CIGAR, CIGARET TAXES NET STATE $1,618,058

The cigar and cigarette tax division of the State Revenue Commission collected $1,618,058 during 1935 and turned it into the treasury, State Auditor Tom Wisdom yesterday reported to Governor Falmadge. The division collects cigar and cigarette taxes, milk beverage taxes and delinquent levies.

The tobacco taxes yielded the largest revenue, $1,260,515, while the milk beverage tax yielded $244,701. Delinquent levies collected totalled $85,310. Tobacco taxes go to pay Confederate pensions, while the milk beverage taxes are being held to provide free school books.

R. E. Matheson, of Hartwell, was commissioner in charge of the division during the year. He since has been supplanted by L. Crowe, of Smyrna.

The United States is pre-eminently the world's largest producer of prunes, approximately 50 per cent of the domestic production of this fruit being sold in foreign markets.

income from sources within this country.

Although Representative Bankhead, democrat, Alabama, the majority leader, told the house at one time the bill probably was the most important of the session, not more than a hundred members were on the floor except when a point of no quorum was raised.

On the opposite side of the capitol, Senator King, democrat, Utah, who as a member of the finance committee which will handle the measure, has expressed his opposition, began drafting a substitute to raise a billion dollars by:

Reducing individual income tax exemptions, boosting surtaxes on incomes of $20,000 to $100,000 and lifting present corporation levies 1 or 2 per cent.

The senate finance committee wound up its study of the bill in executive sessions today and scheduled Secretary Morgenthau as the first witness for open hearings starting Thursday.

reductions from time the Interstate Commerce Commission started its inquiry into the passenger rate situation about a year ago. The B. & O. group filed the new set of tariffs with the commission a week ago.

Railroads operating in western and southeastern regions, although affected by the commission order, will not have to alter their tariffs. Two years ago they voluntarily cut 2 cents in the west and to as low as 1.2 cents a mile in the south. These fares are still in effect on an "experimental" basis.

BUSINESS IS WARNED TO TAKE UP JOB SLACK

the warning made by the President recently that business must put more men to work, or face higher relief costs, Roper said, "it should be clear to everyone that it is not the desire, or purpose, of any government to destroy those fundamental concepts and principles of American business and industry which have made possible our national wealth and progress."

He also said the federal government proposed to turn back to local rule "many of the responsibilities that have been assumed during the depression."

His ten-point plan included:

A survey (ordered yesterday by the chamber's board of directors) of business needs and conditions "from the viewpoint of employing as many persons as current improvements and future programs demand."

Formation of industrial committees to study technological unemployment and methods for speeding up the transfer into other fields of workers replaced by machines.

Stimulation of the durable goods industries by replacing obsolete machines.

A home-building program.

Foreign trade expansion.

A long-term co-ordinated useful public works program.

FECHNER TO ADDRESS
FORESTRY CONVENTION

State Body Is To Hold Annual Session at Columbus on May 7-8.

COLUMBUS, Ga., April 28.—(AP)—A review of the forestry activities of the Southern Forestry Association is to be given here May 7 by Robert Fechner, of Washington, corps director, during the annual convention of the Georgia Forestry Association.

Fechner will be one of a number of prominent forest experts on the program.

The convention is to open May 7, with T. Guy Woolford, president, of Atlanta, presiding. K. S. Worby, president of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce, is to welcome the delegates with the response to be made by Jack Williams, editor of the Waycross Journal-Herald.

Following the presentation of Woolford's annual report, W. M. Oettermier, of Fargo, Ga., is to discuss the "Evolution of Co-operative Fire Protection." E. L. Demmon, director of the Southern Forest Experiment Station, New Orleans, is to outline results of forest research during the past year and C. E. McCashin, district engineer, United States Geological Survey, Chattanooga, will report on an industrial water resources survey.

Judge G. Ogden "Persons, of Forsyth, a member of the executive committee of the State Forestry Association, is to address a luncheon at which Dr. Charles H. Herty, of Savannah, will preside.

The afternoon session of the convention will be presided over by W. T. Anderson, publisher, of Macon, with Fechner's address to be heard.

He will be followed by M. D. Collins, state superintendent of schools, and Joseph C. Kircher, regional forester, United States Forest Service, Atlanta, who will speak on "Forest Products Utilization."

An address by Dr. Herty, noted for his work in connection with paper making from pines, will feature the annual banquet, with Woolford as toastmaster.

Elliott Reed, of Savannah, is to conduct the closing session May 8, with Captain I. F. Eldredge, United States Forest Service, New Orleans, to describe "The Present Situation of Southern Forests."

The part railroads play in forestry will be told by Roland Turner, general agricultural agent, of the Southern Railway system, Atlanta, with the relationship of carpet grass and beef cattle to forestry to be explained by James Fowler, of Soperton.

E. L. Kaylor, secretary of the association, will close the speaking program with a talk on "Naval Stores and Forestry."

Reports of the resolutions and nominating committees and the annual election will close the convention.

A trip to Fort Benning has been arranged as one of the entertainment features.

MASONS WILL MEET TODAY IN MACON

114th Annual Convocation Expected To Be Attended by 300 Delegates.

MACON, Ga., April 28.—(AP)—With more than 300 Masons expected to be in attendance, the 114th annual convocation of the grand chapter of the Royal Arch Masons is to begin here tomorrow.

The grand council, Royal and Select Masters, conferred the cryptic degrees of Masonry on a large group of candidates tonight as a pre-convention event.

Grand High Priest Francis A. Johnston, of Atlanta, will open the convocation with his annual address. New officers will be elected and reports from various chapters heard.

The 93rd annual session of the grand council, Royal and Select Masters, will be held during the afternoon with Hugh W. Taylor, of Savannah, grand master, to preside.

The order of high priesthood is to be conferred on a class of candidates tomorrow night.

Jay S. Woodruff, of New York city, prominent in Masonic circles, will deliver an address Thursday morning as part of the convocation program.

MERIWETHER CITIZENS HELP RAISE ENTRY FEE

GREENVILLE, Ga., April 28.—(AP)—Meriwether county, where President Roosevelt has a winter home, had contributed $750 today towards the $10,000 entrance fee Roosevelt needs to enter the Georgia presidential primary.

The campaign for funds was being continued in the county.

HONOR DAY EXERCISES
TO BE HELD AT ATHENS

Dr. Spright Dowell, Mercer President, Will Be Chief Speaker Today.

ATHENS, Ga., April 28.—(AP)—Honors Day will be celebrated at University of Georgia tomorrow, with Dr. Spright Dowell, president of Mercer University, Macon, as chief speaker.

Honors Day exercises, at which about 400 students will be given special recognition, will feature a busy week of events on the campus.

Tomorrow an art exhibit by Carl E. Mittell will open, and Thursday evening Clifford Beers, noted authority on mental hygiene, and author of "A Mind That Found Itself," will speak.

Friday there will be a citizens' library conference, called by University President Harmon W. Caldwell. Editors, librarians, civic leaders and others will discuss means of improving library facilities throughout the state.

Georgia and Georgia Tech hold their track meet here Saturday afternoon. Several hundred parents are expected here tomorrow for the Honors Day exercises. Dean L. L. Hendren will give the awards.

NEGRO IS LYNCHED
BY GEORGIA MOB

Prisoner Taken From Royston Jail Few Hours Before Time of Trial.

ROYSTON, Ga., April 28.—(AP)—A giant negro, three times the object of thwarted mob action, was lynched today at the point where he was accused of attempting to criminally assault two young white girls.

Lint Shaw, the sullen 225-pound prisoner once saved from mob vengeance by the dramatic pleas of a 14-year-old superior court judge, was snatched out of the one-story jail here shortly after midnight by a band of 40 men a few hours before his scheduled trial.

His bullet-torn body, tied by a cotton plow line to a pine tree, was found at daybreak in a creek bottom near his home at Colbert, Ga. A quickly assembled coroner's jury turned a finding of the 45-year-old Shaw died of gunshot wounds inflicted by "persons unknown."

The negro had been identified by the girls as the man who attempted to attack them when they were returning from school.

Superior Court Judge Berry T. Moseley left a sick bed to thwart a mob of 100 at Danielsville until a detail of national guardsmen arrived from Gainesville where they were patrolling the tornado-stricken city.

Warning his hearers to "stop violating the law by breaking into the jail" as members of the mob tore bricks away from a window, Judge Moseley had Sheriff Henley deputize many in the crowd. Order was restored.

Governor Tells LaGrange Lions Club Pay Day Will Start Next Year.

By GLENN RAMSEY.
Associated Press Staff Writer.

LAGRANGE, Ga., April 28.—(AP)—Long a critic of President Roosevelt's policies, Governor Talmadge charged today "a pusillanimous sentiment in congress" is responsible for New Deal legislation.

"I am going to have pay day due as sure as you are born for all of this foolish spending. It's going to start next year and go on for several months."

"I plead with you to elect men to the national congress who realize we've got a loan to carry and a load to put on our backs."

In some quarters Talmadge is considered as a probable opponent of United States Senator Richard B. Russell Jr. in the September democratic primary. There also is a report, which the Governor has denied, that he will see Congressman Dean's seat in the lower house.

Spoke to Lions.

The Governor spoke before a meeting of the LaGrange Lions Club. Many prominent citizens of the city, some of whom are not members of the club, were guests to hear Talmadge.

The chief executive told his audience that failure of the 1935 legislature to pass an appropriations bill was due to the attempts of Washington Dealers to force an extra session and pass their recovery legislation.

"During that session Representative Ellis Arnall, of Coweta county, introduced a resolution to investigate the spending of relief money in Georgia," the Governor said.

"The state legislature committee was named to go to Washington to talk about the situation. Arnall was not on the committee."

"After they got back another word was heard about the resolution for an investigation. Then the appropriations bill began to be shunted about and never was passed."

"The legislature had it all fixed out. Not pass an appropriations bill and force Talmadge to call an extra session and then pass their recovery measures."

"I was against the recovery bills then and I am now."

"Most of the measures they wanted would be amendments to the constitution and such bills can be passed at an extra session regardless of what is contained in the Governor's call."

"They thought they had left me in some sort of a pickle."

Talmadge said he investigated and found that the constitution of 1877 stated an appropriations bill remains in force and effect "until altered."

This, he said, made the 1935 appropriations act still was the law and would be until another appropriations measure was passed.

"By pressing confidence the state supreme court, which now has under consideration the appeal from a decision of a three-judge Fulton county (Atlanta) superior court holding the lower court's ruling to be invalid, Talmadge's one-man control of state funds, would decide he is right, Talmadge said."

EXERCISES PLAIN, DECISION.

"I believe that when the supreme court decides these cases that their decision will be plain enough for every one in Georgia to understand that it is the duty of the chief executive to run the government when any branch fails to do its duty."

The Governor termed the 1935 legislature "the best since the War between the States."

Being called "dictator" has its disadvantages, the Governor revealed today. He said: "The newspapers have called me 'dictator' so much lately that my grandchildren have begun to think that's my name."

RESIDENTS IN DEKALB REGISTER IN DECATUR

Atlanta residents who reside in DeKalb county must register at the DeKalb courthouse in order to vote in state and city primaries and elections, Homer Howard, DeKalb tax collector, announced yesterday.

Persons living in Atlanta and also in DeKalb county will not have to register at the Atlanta city hall after doing so at the DeKalb courthouse, as a registration list is supplied Fulton county for the permanent registration list.

Fulton Tax Collector T. Earl Rutledge warned voters that Saturday, May 2, is the last day for registration for the state and city primaries.

STATE DEATHS

MRS. J. T. TURNER.
ROME, Ga., April 28.—Mrs. J. T. Turner, 86, of Coosa, passed away Sunday night at her residence of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Johnson, of Coosa. She had been in ill health for the past 12 weeks, but her condition only became serious two weeks ago.

Mrs. Turner was born in Lumpkin county in 1850.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. James Dugan, of Rome; three sons, W. J. Turner, of Macon; Howard Turner, of Albertville, Ala.; and Arthur Turner, of Rome; two sisters, five brothers, 20 grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted this morning from Pleasant Baptist church in Coosa, with Rev. A. B. Carver, of Rome, officiating. Interment was in the family lot in the Oakland cemetery at Rome.

MRS. LULA ADAIR.
ROME, Ga., April 28.—Mrs. Lula Adair, 47, died yesterday at her residence, 1012 Avenue B, after a short illness. She had been living in Rome for four months, having moved here from Dallas, Ga. She had been a member of the Bethany Christian church in Dallas since early childhood.

Mrs. Adair is survived by her husband, Allen Adair; two daughters, Misses Lela and Mary Lee Adair; three sons, Floyd, Elmer and Paul Adair, all of Rome; a sister, Mrs. Ollie Freeman, of Dallas; and Ernest Mitchell, Carl Mitchell, of Rome, and Ernest Mitchell, of Dallas.

Funeral services were conducted this afternoon from the Bethany Christian church with Rev. Webb officiating. Interment was in the Oakland cemetery.

MRS. E. E. CHRISTIAN.
ROME, Ga., April 28.—Mrs. E. E. Christian, 61, passed away Sunday morning at her residence in South Lindsale, where she had lived for the past two years. Mrs. Christian was born near Athens, and moved to King's Mountain where she resided until 1910 when she moved to Lindsale.

She is survived by five sons, Jesse Christian, Fred Christian and John Christian, all of Lindsale; Lloyd Hall, of Lindsale, and Belmont Hall, of Dallas; two daughters, Misses Little and Lela, of Dallas; and Mrs. Will Priest, both of Lindsale; one sister, Mrs. Beale Horn, of Dallas; and Ernest Mitchell, of Dallas.

Funeral services were conducted this afternoon from the Pleasant Hope Baptist church, officiating, assisted by Rev. L. M. Egan, of Lindsale Baptist church. Interment was at Pleasant Hope.

JERRY WYNN.
ROME, Ga., April 28.—Jerry Wynn, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Wynn, passed away Sunday morning at the residence of his parents on Franklin avenue.

The child is survived by his parents, grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Wynn and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wynn.

The funeral was conducted Sunday afternoon with interment in Antioch cemetery.

HERTY AWARD GOES TO DR. MACINTIRE

Tennessee University Chemist To Be Given Prize at Milledgeville.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 28.—(AP)—Winning a chemistry award hasn't been allowed to divert Dr. Walter H. MacIntire from his efforts to release for farmers' use the vast stores of vital phosphorus now locked in the earth's rocks.

On May 16 his nearly 25 years of research in soil chemistry will be rewarded at Milledgeville, Ga., when he receives the 1934 Herty, chemistry medal, an annual award for outstanding chemical work in the southeast.

Dr. MacIntire, whose department at the University of Tennessee has grown to 12 associates, four laboratories and a soil-testing plant, said he would accept the award humbly.

"It hasn't been so much myself—I have had such loyal and capable fellows working with me," he explained.

Then, rather than talk further about what he had done, he turned to what he hoped to do at the university and in his post as consultant for the agricultural division of the Tennessee Valley Authority. He has been leading in efforts to derive an efficient and cheap phosphorous fertilizer from low-grade phosphorous rock.

Dr. MacIntire was born in Wilmington, N. C. in 1888, the son of a merchant. Majoring in chemistry, he was graduated from North Carolina State College in 1906. He received his M. A. degree in soil chemistry at Pennsylvania State College in 1908.

He was chemist for the North Carolina board of health from 1906 to 1907, and associated in soil chemistry at Pennsylvania State from 1908 to 1912 when he came to Tennessee.

He is author and joint author of nearly 100 scientific papers which have been published in this country and abroad. He is past president of the Association of Agricultural Chemists.

EXTORTION ATTEMPT LAID TO MONROE MAN

ATHENS, Ga., April 28.—(UP)—Charles W. Mears, of Monroe, was arrested yesterday by G-Men on a charge of attempting to extort $3,000 from C. W. Walker, also of Monroe under threat of bodily harm.

Mears was brought here for an arraignment before United States Commissioner Sara C. Hawkins. He was held in the city jail on default of $3,000 bond after entering a preliminary plea of guilty.

He will be taken to the Meriwether county jail in Greenville, Ga.

According to the federal officers, the extortion note was mailed in Monroe February 10, and threatened Walker with harm unless the demand for $3,000 was met.

The money never was paid, it was understood, although agents were reticent on details of the case.

EMPEROR HIROHITO OBSERVES BIRTHDAY

TOKYO, April 29.—(Wednesday)—Emperor Hirohito, who controls the destinies of 100,000,000 subjects, celebrated his 35th birthday today in a holiday observed throughout the Japanese empire.

The usual brilliant military review accorded to the emperor on his birthdays was cancelled because the nation is considered still in a state of emergency as an aftermath of the bloody rebellion February 26.

Ancient rites, beginning with a palace celebration this morning, were carried out with the usual solemnity. Martial law restrictions, still imposed on the Japanese capital, were understood, although agents were reticent on details of the case.

RED CROSS EXAMINER IS HONORED AT DINNER

A dinner honoring Ramona S. Eaton, Red Cross life saving field representative, who will conduct the annual examiner's training institute for Red Cross life saving service in the Briarcliff Gardens.

Approximately 35 Atlantans who hold examiner's titles attended the dinner. Kenneth Thrash was in charge of arrangements.

The institute will begin tonight at the Briarcliff swimming pool and continue until Friday. No charge is made for the course, and many Atlantans and Georgians are expected to attend.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT SIGNS ENTRY PAPERS

The pair of red suspenders, emblem of Governor Talmadge's past campaign activities, which were auctioned off at Atlanta, Ga., recently for $43, the proceeds going to the Roosevelt campaign fund in the state. S. E. Tanner, Wheeler county farmer who bought the "Talmadge galluses," had donated them for this purpose.

Another donation to the national democratic campaign was chest made by Scarlett in behalf of the democratic committee of Glynn county, Georgia. He brought a check for $1,000 which the committee had accumulated over a period of years, turning it over to Chairman Feltz with the request that it be used in the campaign for Mr. Roosevelt's reelection.

Before returning to Atlanta Manager Allen intends to confer with Georgia congressmen and the two senators over the delegation the state will send to the Philadelphia national convention, but no steps are expected to be taken toward submitting a list for President Roosevelt's approval until after the primary entries are closed next month.

In order to give Manager Allen an opportunity to go over the state situation with individual members at the same time, Representative Carl Vinson, of Millersville, dean of the house delegation, called a meeting of the congressional group at his office for tomorrow morning.

President Roosevelt's notice of intention to enter the Georgia primary took the form of a letter to Hugh Howell, chairman of the state democratic executive committee, which set the conditions for candidate qualifying.

Scarlett accompanied Allen to Washington as chairman of the Glynn county democratic executive committee and as a member of the Roosevelt state advisory committee. He had plans for returning tonight.

TALMADGE REFUSES COMMENT ON ENTRY

Governor Talmadge, who more than anyone else probably will determine whether President Roosevelt will be opposed in Georgia's preferential primary, yesterday had no comment to make on the President's signing of his entry in the Georgia race. The Governor received the news at La-

Irish Horse Traders Meet in Annual Atlanta Reunion

The Irish Horse Traders, descendants of eight families, met in Atlanta yesterday to continue a custom of many years—burying their dead of the last year and holding a reunion. The horse traders do business throughout the country, living mostly in tents, such as is shown in this picture. James Sherlock, grandson of "Old Mattie" Sherlock, stern leader of the traders, is shown with women and children of the horse traders' families. Photo by Associated Press.

Irish Horse Traders Honor Dead In Impressive Catholic Services

In impressive Catholic services, the Irish Horse Traders yesterday laid to rest two of their number who had died during the past year and folded their green tents for the trip to Nashville, Tenn., where six more await burial.

A tradition of 50 years standing dictates that the nomadic mule traders send the bodies of their dead to either Atlanta or Nashville.

Each April 25 they converge upon this city from their scattered wanderings, and each May 1 they hold a similar reunion at Nashville. In each city mass services are held for all the dead families composing the original traders attend the funeral.

The funerals, however, are but an incident of the annual gatherings. Business matters are discussed, relations with the state government are discussed, and a renewed attack on the Roosevelt New Deal.

Under the terms of the resolution of the democratic state executive committee fixing the $10,000 entry fee to be returned to the contributors if there is no opposition to the President, he also will name the state's delegation in the event there is no contest.

Meet June 17. Chairman Hugh Howell, of the state committee, said yesterday that plans were being made for the committee to fix the program for the state primary when it meets June 17 to formally name delegates to the national convention. These delegates will be of the choosing of the state's choice for the nomination.

The chairman said that he personally favored fixing the entry fees the same as they were two years ago when the Governor and congressional aspirants paid $250 each.

The chairman did not say which date he favored for the closing of entries but observers predicted that it would be July 3, the day before Independence Day, when Governor Talmadge has announced he will open his campaign at his home city of Milledgeville. He has not indicated what office he will seek. Some believe he will ask a third term as governor. Others believe he will attempt to unseat Senator Richard B. Russell Jr. Still others believe he is contemplating running for the U. S. House.

is to join forces with Marshal Pietro Badoglio's northern troops at these points.

To Take Rest. Official dispatches said General Graziani's troops, after 14 days of intense fighting around Sasa Baneh, will consolidate their conquered positions and "allow themselves a well-deserved rest."

Before continuing the push northward, the Italian high command is planning to build a bridge over the Gharar and Fagan rivers, and a second bridge over the Fagan river as soon as General Graziani gives the word.

General Waheb Pasha, Turkish World War hero, leads a large detachment of Nasib's army defending the Ethiopian positions at Sasa Baneh.

The territory is honeycombed with caves, in which the Ethiopians have cleverly concealed machine guns and light artillery pieces.

Dispatches from Italian headquarters on the northern front said Dajazmach Bura Amadi, chief of the Walla Galla tribes, submitted to the fascist high command with 10,000 warriors. This reportedly clears the path for a triumphant march on Addis Ababa.

NORTHERN ARMY MARCHING ON CAPITAL. BY ANDRUE BERDING. ROME, April 25. (AP)—Italy's motorized infantry was climbing the steep slopes of the Addis Ababa, the army command reported tonight.

A communique from Marshal Pietro Badoglio, commander-in-chief in Africa, said the advancing soldiers, 140 kilometers (92 miles) from Dessie, field headquarters of the northern army. This means they have covered nearly two-thirds of the distance between Dessie and Addis Ababa.

An Eritrean column protecting the flanks of the main body was believed to be still farther ahead.

Another column reported about to occupy the important town of Ankober, south of the motor road from Dessie to the Ethiopian capital, while the southern army is continuing "a victorious offensive."

Occupation of Addis Ababa was believed by Italian military circles here to be only a matter of two or three days. Most of it, officials said, would be carried out without opposition.

Only Task Left. The only big task remaining, fascists said, was the elimination of the forces of the southern Ethiopian army under Ras Nasibu, now defending the approaches to Harar, second city in size.

On the northern front, Marshal Badoglio reported: "On the northern front, our motorized column which left Dessie, 140 kilometers (92 miles) from the motor road to Addis Ababa without encountering resistance."

"Another column, which left Uccia, advanced about 50 kilometers (31 miles), reaching the Uccia river."

"Sultan Asma Mohammed Jahio reached our line and made acts of submission to the military authorities."

"On the Somali front our victorious offensive is continuing."

"On the left of our line, the Eritrean detachment which left Dessie defeated and dispersed strong enemy groups in the Fagan river valley."

"In the center, the Frusci column completed a reconnaissance of the territory abandoned in the Fagan valley during the reconnaissance of the column reinforced itself at its positions in Gunaagda."

"The air corps co-operate with the greatest efficiency in actions along the entire front."

WEARY NATIVE TROOPS RETURNING TO ADDIS ABABA. ADDIS ABABA, April 25. (AP)—Weary Ethiopian warriors, granting a marked contrast to the fiery tribesmen who paraded before the emperor last fall, began straggling into Addis Ababa today by the thousands from the northern front.

Many of them were wounded. The refugees, suffering from undernourishment and lack of water, were placed in a large camp outside the town.

"We can fight the Italians," said one of the weary warriors, "but we will never allow the enemy to remain in possession of our land."

The capital awaited definite information on the progress of Italians from Dessie. The government would not say where Emperor Haile Selassie plans to make his next stand, although it was understood to be in the lofty hills between here and Dessie.

2 BROTHERS ASSASSINATED. MADRID, April 25. (AP)—Miguel, a powerful figure in Catalonian politics, and his brother, Jose, were killed today in a double assassination which police believed to have been inspired by political hatreds. Both men were moved down by a blast of a gun fire as they stepped out of Miguel's home into the street following a luncheon.

FORREST ADAIR RITES WILL BE HELD TODAY

Leading Real Estate Operator To Be Honored by Associates.

Atlanta yesterday mourned the loss of Forrest Adair, known to thousands as a man who had abiding faith in the city and its future, and having that faith, an untiring contributor to its growth and progress; a builder without whose aid, other leaders agreed, the city would not have achieved its present status.

Mr. Adair died early yesterday morning at his residence, 526 Peachtree street, N. E., at the age of 71. He had been virtually retired for the last five years due to failing health.

One of the leading real estate operators of the southeast, Mr. Adair was the guiding spirit in much of the city's development. Included in the notable developments in which he participated were those of "Tudor Row and Druid Hills. The fostering of hydro-electric projects of the state and the bringing of railroads into the city were included in his activities.

One of his non-business projects, an everlasting memorial to his civic leadership, was his fostering of the Scottish Rite hospital, which was largely responsible for the establishment of the famous Shrine Hospitals for Crippled Children, which now exist in many sections of the nation.

Born in Atlanta on March 25, 1865, he was the son of Georgia W. and Mary Jane Adair, pioneer residents of the section. His father was an aide on the staff of General Nathan Bedford Forrest, Confederate hero and cavalry officer.

Mr. Adair was paid the supreme tribute of the Masonic order when he was elevated to the 33rd degree of Masonry, an honor which is accorded but few men.

He was a member of Yaarab Temple of the Shrine and for 15 years served as potentate. He was a member of all the Scottish and York Rite organizations.

Served as Commissioner. Mr. Adair served one term in public office as a Fulton county commissioner in the late 90's. He was a vice president of the chamber of commerce in 1920 and 1921, and served as a member of the board of directors for several years.

He was the leader of the movement to bring the A. B. C. Railroad to the city and his firm bought the right-of-way for the road. Rights-of-way also were bought for the Atlanta and West Point belt line and for the "Lynchville and Nashville Railroad."

Mr. Adair was one of the original developers of the Bull Sluice project on the Chattahoochee river, purchasing the site for the Georgia Railway & Power Company for the development of electric power. He also purchased all the rights-of-way for the transmission lines from the city to the power plant.

He was a member of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce and for many years served as a member of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce and for many years served as a member of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce.

Founded Large Business. The Adair Realty & Trust Company, one of the city's leading institutions for many years, was formed by George and Forrest Adair, who were partners in the business for many years. Activities of that firm were responsible for much of the development of the city and for many major projects in the downtown and other sections.

Mr. Adair was an honorary life member of the Atlanta Real Estate Board and board officers and the officers of many other organizations.

During the World War, Mr. Adair was chairman of the city's Liberty Loan committee and under his leadership more than $14,000,000 in bonds were sold. At that time he was president of the business league by their father. Activities of that firm were responsible for much of the development of the city and for many major projects in the downtown and other sections.

Funeral services will be held at 11:30 o'clock this morning at the chapel of H. M. Patterson & Son with the Rev. J. W. Johnson officiating. Pallbearers will be George Damour, Marion Swanson, H. H. Arnold, W. R. Cox, N. H. Giles, John O. Crowley, Robert B. Troutman and Hubert Rayfield.

Escort of Honor. An escort of honor will be composed of R. P. Jones, S. C. Dobbs, Hal Hentz, Eugene Gunby, Asa G. Candler Jr., James D. Robinson, Ed. Roberts, Dr. David Myers, E. D. Thomas, Charles Cox, Tom C. Stephenson, Wadley Glenn.

Linton Hopkins, David Strauss, Walter Rich, Clark Brown, A. B. B. Cates, R. O. Otis, Henry Robinson, W. A. Alexander, John R. Dickey, Judge Thomas H. Jeffries, Dr. Claude Hughes.

At the time of the shooting Sheriff B. E. Houston said he had been told by the Miller county grand jury, charged with murder of Mrs. Charlie Mae Houston, 22, his former stenographer.

C. E. Hay, of Thomasville, of counsel for Geer, arranged to seek a change of venue and a hearing on his motion was scheduled for Thursday morning.

Mrs. Houston was shot to death here on the morning of January 8, as she sat in the car with Mrs. Vivian Hatcher Pat, 21.

a proviso that it is to become effective only when the four other members of the committee relinquish their positions.

Police Chief T. O. Sturdivant and his first assistant, A. Lamar Poole, in charge of detectives, again visited Key's office yesterday, but no indication of what was discussed was given by principals in the conference.

Key denied that he called to discuss the police situation with him, but added:

"I told them that I'd wait until after council meets and then I'd take that up."

When pressed for comment as to what he proposed to take up, Key replied:

"Then I'll take it up."

"We're still catching burglars and safecrackers," Sturdivant commented when asked for what was discussed at the conference, and Poole said that they "had already, forgotten about that other business."

"The mayor insists upon certain policies for the police committee," Gilliam said. "His committee are supposed to carry out those policies. Under the present regime, we might do better without a committee."

Would Centralize Authority. Under the proposed plan Sturdivant would be chief of police and would be responsible only to Key in administration of the department. The officer were tried for any offense, he would face the mayor and Key would elect the chief to be construed to be justice.

The mayor's first concern is to keep Sturdivant as chief of police," Gilliam added. "It is not reasonable to expect him to select any police committee but one that is hand-picked with a commitment to the chief as a prime requisite."

"By placing the entire responsibility with the mayor, this purpose would be served and at the same time city council would be relieved of a situation with which it cannot cope because of the mayor's attitude."

"It also would eliminate the alibi that the department is hampered considerably by councilmanic interference."

GEORGIA DEMOCRATS URGED TO REGISTER. WAYCROSS, Ga., April 25. (AP)—Mrs. J. A. Rollinson, of Waycross, president of the Georgia Affiliated Democratic Women's Clubs, today urged democrats in the state to pay their poll taxes this week so they can vote in the approaching primary and general elections.

Dr. Ingram, of Valdosta, state chairman of the registration committee, in a letter addressed to democratic women of Georgia, said:

"The state of Georgia is conceded democratic but that doesn't mean that it isn't vitally important to the registration of all persons eligible to vote. No time can be lost."

"All women who have never voted before can register and vote without paying poll tax until later, if they have registered before and failed to keep their poll tax paid, see that they pay up and are eligible to vote again."

SON SAYS HOWE TOLD OF KILLING HIS WIFE

Husband Formally Charged With Murder Following Coroner's Inquest.

Police search for Harry P. Howe, sought in connection with the death of his wife, Mrs. Hattie Howe, 35, was intensified as a warrant charging murder was issued against him following a coroner's inquest at which his son testified the father confessed to him he had killed his wife.

The coroner's inquest was given by the son, James M. Howe, at an inquest conducted by Coroner P. H. Bone, of Paulding county, into the death of Mrs. Howe, whose mutilated body was found at about 6 o'clock Sunday morning in a clump of woods about six miles from Dallas, Ga., where the inquest was held at Lee's mortuary.

The testimony of the son resulted in a coroner's verdict that Mrs. Howe "came to her death at the hands of her husband, Harry P. Howe."

According to the son's testimony, the elder Howe came to the home of his son at 126 Holly road, at about 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, saying to him:

"I killed Hattie. Get in touch with my lawyer about this. You'll hear from me in about 15 to 30 days."

He was too stunned to question his father, the son continued, and the elder Howe then left the house, giving no details of the actual killing or motive for the act. The elder Howe has not been seen since.

Prior to the testimony of the son, other members of the family told of threats made by Howe to kill his wife. F. W. Brown, a brother of the slain woman, said his sister had told him and other relatives Howe threatened to kill her. Virtually the same testimony was given by a cousin, J. W. Brown, and other members of Mrs. Howe's family.

A pair of glasses and a lumber-jacket, found by a neighbor of the body about a half-mile from where the body was discovered by Albert Gore, a farmer, were identified as belonging to Howe by members of Mrs. Howe's family.

Tells of Finding Body. Gore told of finding the body. The head had been crushed and a portion of the body had been eaten away, probably by an animal.

The inquest also revealed that an empty shotgun shell and a shotgun

Howe Trail Lost.

Howe Trail Lost. Sheriff Couch said investigators learned Howe was in Atlanta Sunday night, but the trail has been lost. Fulton county detectives also reported no progress in their hunt for Howe.

The funeral of Mrs. Howe, the former Miss Hattie Brown, of Yorkville, was held at 11 o'clock yesterday morning at the family burial plot near Yorkville.

Surprised while allegedly looting a safe in offices of the Orange Crush Bottling Company at 152 Ellis street, a suspect was captured early yesterday morning. His companion fled, evading police bullets.

The suspect gave his name as Tony Angelo, of a Campbellton road address. According to Detective J. J. Chester, identity of his companion is known. An effort will be made to locate the safe, part of an elaborate set of burglar equipment, was stolen from an Atlanta hardware store last Thursday.

H. Dempsey, a watchman employed by several business houses in the neighborhood, called police when he noticed that a large safe had been moved from its concrete base.

When police arrived, the building was surrounded, Angelo and his companion fled to the roof when two of the officers entered the building. Several shots were fired, and Angelo surrendered.

His companion leaped to the street from a second-story window. He eluded police by dodging among several pieces of road construction machinery stored on an adjoining lot.

Police said a smaller safe, welded within the larger one, was lying on the floor of a rear room, when they entered. The safe contained $500 in cash, but nothing was taken.

Angelo was charged with suspicion of burglary.

Japanese Penetration of Philippine Textile Market Arouses Officials.

MANILA, April 28.—(AP)—Japanese penetration of the Philippine textile goods market in competition with American and native products was brought sharply to attention today in a proposal to increase tariff rates 100 per cent on foreign imports.

The proposal was made by Juan David, acting chief of the Philippine customs appraisers' division, when it was learned that a number of American textile manufacturers had signified a desire to erect mills in the islands provided sufficient tariff protection were given.

"Japanese mill men work longer hours and receive lower wages, which accounts for the rock-bottom prices of their products," David said, in support of his proposal.

"Actually, Japan imports from the United States a great portion of the raw cotton used in her textile industry. The woven fabric pays a customs duty upon importation to the Philippines, yet still is able to overcome the advantage of free entry of cotton textiles from the United States."

CAMPAIGN IN GEORGIA TO BE BRIEF THIS YEAR

Political Show Expected To Last for Not More Than Two Months.

A little more than two months of campaigning—about half the usual time—is planned for candidates seeking nominations in the September democratic primary.

An authoritative source disclosed yesterday that July 3 tentatively has been decided on as the closing date for entries. The primary is scheduled September 9.

If the state democratic executive committee, of which Governor Eugene Talmage has a majority, fixes these dates the campaign will be officially confined to 56 days, excluding Sundays.

In 1934 May 3 was the closing date. The primary was September 13.

The state committee, headed by Chairman Hugh Howell, meets June 17 to fix rules, the primary and closing of entries dates and the fees.

Should the committee adopt the recommendations of the chairman the fees will be the same as those of 1934.

Each candidate for Governor and candidates for congress two years ago paid $250 entrance fees; each state-house officer, including judges of the supreme court and judges of the court of appeals, were assessed $150.

Superior court judges and solicitors general paid a $125 fee. Fees for congressional races are to be paid to the secretary of the congressional district executive committee and all other assessments to Mrs. Eleanor Orr Roan, secretary of the state committee.

Usually the secretary of the state committee maintains an office the day of the closing of entries in the library of the state capitol and receives entries and fees up to 12 noon, central standard time.

TO VOTE FOR F. D. R. Kansas Delegates Instructed for Roosevelt.

WICHITA, Kas., April 28.—(AP)—Landing President Roosevelt as a "sincere friend of agriculture and the middle west," the democratic state convention tonight instructed Kansas' 22 delegates to the national convention to vote for his re-election.

It criticized the administration of Governor Alf M. Landon, of Kansas, republican presidential possibility. It demanded, through resolutions, that the Governor call a special session of the legislature to act on assistance phases of the federal social security program.

It criticized the "short-sighted and unsympathetic attitude of the Kansas state administration in fighting the insurance of bank deposits."

HIGHWAY ENGINEER DIES AT COLUMBIA COLUMBIA, S. C., April 28.—(AP) Charles H. Moorefield, 63, under whose supervision South Carolina increased its paved highway system from 56 to 2,500 miles, died today at a local hospital.

Funeral services will be conducted at 5 p. m. tomorrow at Trinity Episcopal church of Columbia, with Dr. Henry D. Phillips, rector, officiating. Moorefield was a district engineer of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads at the time of his death. His district at the time of his death consisted of the Carolinas and the Virginias.

It was during his administration as state highway engineer that experiments with cotton fabric as a "binder" for bituminous surfacing were begun in the state. They proved highly satisfactory and since have gained nation-wide attention.

AUGUSTA FIREMEN HURT AS ENGINE OVERTURNS AUGUSTA, Ga., April 28.—(AP)—Three firemen were injured here today when a fire engine overturned at a street intersection as it swerved to avoid a collision with another approaching a fire.

The injured were Lieutenant O. M. Murphy, Fireman C. C. Murphy and Fireman Oliver Ingleit. O. M. Murphy, with a badly hurt arm, was the most seriously injured.

H. M. ROBINSON BURIED IN OAKLAND CEMETERY Funeral services for Henry M. Robinson, retired postal official and Masonic leader, who died Monday at his residence, 1614 Peachtree street, were held at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Peachtree chapel of Brandon Bond & Condon.

Mr. Robinson served during the World War as assistant postal agent of the A. E. F. in France. He was superintendent of the railway mail division at New Orleans until his retirement.

The Rev. W. H. Boring officiated at the rites and burial was in Oakland cemetery.

EDUCATION PROGRAM IS PASSED BY SENATE

Bill, Backed by Senator Walter F. George, of Georgia, To Aid Schools.

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS. WASHINGTON, April 28.—Without a record vote or a roll call the senate today passed the bill by Senator Walter F. George, Georgia, authorizing a permanent government program in the aid of vocational education.

The measure, which now goes to the lower house for final consideration, carries an authorization for an annual appropriation of $14,500,000 plus $75,000 additional for administrative costs.

Already the government is engaged in a limited rural vocational education aid program under bills sponsored by the Georgia senator in the past. The new funds authorized today will, if finally approved, result in a maximum annual program of approximately $21,700,000.

In urging the adoption of the legislation, which would become effective July 1, 1937, Senator George pointed out that it created no new government agency or bureau, but merely placed vocational education on a permanent basis of government aid.

The individual states, he said, have spent more than twice the amount expended in this direction by the federal government in the past.

The funds would be made available to the various states and territories on a dollar matching basis similar to that employed in federal aid highway appropriations. Senator Joseph T. Robinson, of Arkansas, the democratic leader, joined with Senator George in making a brief speech for the bill.

Secretary of Interior Harold I. Ickes strongly urged adoption of the bill in a recent report sent to the senate committee on agriculture and forestry, which gave it preliminary consideration.

HOUSE COMMITTEE FAVORS NEW SHIPS Naval Body Drafts Legislation To Begin Construction of Vessels.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—(AP)—Legislation to permit the United States to begin construction of new battleships in 1937 is being drafted by the house naval committee—for use if President Roosevelt decides the vessels are needed.

This was made known authoritatively today, little more than a week after recommendations to the President by Admiral William H. Standley, acting secretary of the navy, urged that a capital ship replacement program be undertaken immediately because of the approaching termination of the Washington and London fleet limitations treaties.

The proposed bill would provide congressional authorization for laying the keels of two battleships next year as recommended by the navy high command, provided the chief executive deemed that action warranted by the construction activity of any other naval power.

Standley, a delegate to the recent London naval conference, has told the President of Great Britain's intention to start building two new battle craft as soon as the Washington and London treaties expire at the end of 1936.

ALLEN P. WHIPPLE DIES; WAS PERRY MORTICIAN Allen P. Whipple, Perry (Ga.) mortician and owner of the Whipple Funeral Home at Perry, died yesterday at a private Atlanta hospital.

He is survived by his wife; two sons, Allen P. Whipple, Jr., and Deryle Taylor Whipple; two brothers, Wendell K. Whipple and Lewis Bennett Whipple, and his mother, Mrs. Jennie Whipple, the latter of Dublin. The body was prepared last night by H. M. ATLANTA, GA., APRIL 29, 1936.

OUR CONGRESSMEN

No act of Governor Talmadge since he entered on his dictatorial rampage has been more indefensible than his attacks on the members of the Georgia delegation in congress, both senators and representatives. He charges them all with dereliction of duty, and openly threatens them with opposition for re-election.

The Governor blames the members of the delegation for the failure of the state to receive the $17,000,000 in federal highway aid funds now being withheld in Washington because of the chaotic condition of the state government, for which no one is more to blame than the Governor himself. He has time and again taken them to task for their support of the Roosevelt administration and for failing to agree with his dictatorial policies.

No delegation from any state has made a better record, nor has a higher standing in congress, than the one from Georgia.

Senator George, the senior senator, has won the admiration not only of his senatorial associates, but the respect of the whole country. There is not an able nor a more outstanding member of the senate than he.

Senator Russell, the junior senator, has made a record that is almost unprecedented in the degree to which he has gone to the front in his first term of service.

In the house, members of the Georgia delegation occupy chairmanships of the most important committees. Others are influential members of equally prominent committees.

The representatives whom their constituents have been wise enough to keep in office for several terms have been rewarded by chairmanships won by their ability and their length of service. The others, newer in the service and therefore not eligible under the seniority rule for chairmanships, have, because of their outstanding ability, been assigned to the leading committees of the house, and with their longer service their seniority rank rises.

The attacks by the Governor on the delegation are both unprecedented and unwarranted, and will be resented by the people of the state. There is not a member of the delegation who has not rendered faithful service.

Largely due to the effort of the delegation, Georgia has fared unusually well in federal allotments, both for relief and for construction projects. There is not a congressional district in the state that has not received far-reaching benefit from liberal federal aid.

Since this aid was secured in the face of the Governor's continued and bitter attacks on the administration and its policies, it comes in bad grace, to say the least of it, for him to assail the delegation. It is entitled to, and will receive, universal commendation for its fine service and for the outstanding work of its members.

The public will resent the Governor's threat that, because they refuse to obey his commands, and do not agree with his policies, he will see to it that they are opposed. Fortunately, he is not in a position tion where he can chop off congressional heads, as he has so ruthlessly and relentlessly done with those of state officials—otherwise the above-the-neck annex of every member of the state's able and outstanding delegation would have been in the basket before now.

Georgians will not let their confidence in their congressional representation be shaken by the assault of the self-appointed dictator. On the other hand, it reacts in favor of every member of the delegation.

FORREST ADAIR SR.

In the death after a long illness of Forrest Adair Sr., Atlanta loses a citizen who was for many years a conspicuous figure in the civic, business, fraternal and social life of the city.

The Adair family has been indelibly associated with the development of Atlanta. Forrest Adair's father, the late George W. Adair, was one of the founders of the city and its first real estate operator.

In his devotion to the best interests of the community, of his business, and in civic leadership, Forrest Adair worthily carried on the outstanding public service of his father.

For many years he was the leader in Masonic affairs of the city, being a thirty-third degree Mason and serving as potentate of Yaarab Temple for 15 years.

It was under his leadership that the Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children was established in Atlanta, and he was largely instrumental in the founding of the 12 other similar institutions in other sections of the country.

Few men have had more friends than Forrest Adair. There was universal regret that he was forced, because of illness, to retire from active life several years ago. He bore his affliction with fortitude. The city moved on without him, but the work he had done remains as an everlasting memorial to his enterprise and his civic service.

A NOTABLE EDITION

The 120-page special edition of the Columbus Ledger in celebration of the 50th anniversary of this noted Georgia newspaper is an outstanding tribute to its management.

Founded in 1886 by the late R. W. Page, the story of the Ledger is an inspiring record of public service and business success. Starting in a modest way in a comparatively small community, the Ledger of that day is described in the 50th Anniversary Edition as "a small struggling paper, set by hand and printed on an old hand press, all done in one small room."

The splendid anniversary edition, printed in one of the finest newspaper plants in the south, strikingly illustrates the development of this Georgia newspaper from so humble a beginning.

Upon the death of the founder some years ago, the progress and the ideals of the Ledger continued under the direction of his sons, W. E. Page, now collector of internal revenue for Georgia, becoming president of the R. W. Page Corporation; J. E. Page, publisher, and R. M. Page, editor-in-chief.

No small share of the credit for the building of the Columbus of today is due to the progressive spirit and the loyalty of R. W. Page, able businessman and newspaper genius, and his sons. Many outstanding reforms have been achieved largely through the militant aid of the Ledger, and this fine Georgia newspaper has grown with Columbus, as Columbus has grown with it.

Several years ago the Page brothers, who had made such an outstanding success of the Ledger as an afternoon newspaper, acquired the historic Columbus Enquirer-Sun, continuing its publication as a morning newspaper and consolidating the Sunday issues of the two papers under the name of the Ledger-Enquirer. The history of the Enquirer is largely written in the old Enquirer-Sun, established more than 100 years ago.

The 50th Anniversary Edition of the Ledger contains a wealth of historical material relating to the development of Columbus and the entire Chattahoochee valley. It compares favorably with any similar edition ever published in America.

World's Window
BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN.

Two Critical Days.

For two days everybody in Germany was in great fear that the occupation of the Rhineland might lead to sanctions. If that had happened the world would have seen who is the real master of Germany, for the reichswehr would have dropped Hitler by repudiating his dangerous move and the troops would have been withdrawn at once. This is generally known, even in the French foreign ministry. Germany is not ready to wage war yet and the fuhrer would not have survived the humiliation of a Franco-British ultimatum. Thanks to the attitude of Great Britain, however, Hitler is now once more safe in the saddle. Once more the reichswehr will be allowed to remain in the Rhineland and now Germany is the strongest military power, the fuhrer will only have to make another threatening move to obtain colonies and money from the terrified neighbor states.

"The army is convinced," I was informed by a military man, "that Hitler will materialize without war in the course of the present year. After that he will occupy Schleswig, Altona, Lorraine and Eupen-Malmédy. Every three months will see a new triumph of prestige. Germany did well to arm to the teeth. The other nations are so anxious for peace that they will let her have anything rather than go to war."

Trip To Germany.

I was in Germany for five days. The journey was not without incident. From Zurich to Rheinfelden, through the Black Forest to Munich and back. No passports were required, which was the first time since 1918 that a foreigner could enter Germany without a passport. I was given a new name and behaved as a Swiss tourist should. Germany is running thousands of such excursions out of neighboring states with the simple object of course, attracting French and Swiss francs, Dutch guilders, Czech crowns, and further Luxembourg, Danish, Lithuanian, Polish, Austrian and even Hungarian valuta. Except that our splendid sight-seeing bus was scrupulously searched for foreign newspapers at the frontier, there was not a single inconvenience. I asked no questions on this five-day trip, but gaped and rubber-necked, as is expected from ecstatic tourists. I was in the bus, a little merchant from Basel, insisted that the quality of beer had held up remarkably well under the new regime and the Nazi exploitation of the beer industry. The bus from time to time, gave us enough applause to make us believe that we were in the millennium itself. It was a most edifying experience.

Seeing And Hearing.

In this way, I managed to see quite a lot of Bavaria without becoming in the least aware of the economic stress and the political situation. I was faithfully told Hitler's paper: Volkische Beobachter, from which I learned about other things, that the reichswehr had burned down the convents in Spain, which is about the number of churches in the whole of Europe; further, that the bolsheviks and the French were trying to end Europe with a huge arm the heavy artillery in Germany obviously being destined for the manufacture of such explosives as silk underwear and the flesh-creeping items. Anyhow, I swilled a lot of beer on this trip, to remain inconspicuous, or rather not to fall out of my role as Swiss traveler, went to church in Munich to hear Cardinal Faulhaber, brought a handkerchief in a Jewish shop; bought a public school reader from which I read the morning paper, Herder, etc., etc., replaced with excerpts from the writings of the fuhrer, speeches of Goebbels and thunderations of Hitler; went to a movie once to see a piece by a new genius; had a pen explain to me the beauties of the "Kraft durch Freude" movement; actually had dinner with a millionaire brewer, who called himself a socialist.

Back Across The Rhine.

Safely back across the Rhine I felt that I could make a pile of money by writing an enthusiastic and glowing account on such subjects as the cleanliness of the streets, the neatness of the houses, the absence of the insolence of Jews (I saw one of them actually put up an umbrella when it only drizzled); on the renaissance in which Hitler is held; on one man compare him to Christ who was crucified by the Israelis, but I will refrain. I did not need to go to the risk of my own life, and I did not want to see a piece by a new genius; had a pen explain to me the beauties of the "Kraft durch Freude" movement; actually had dinner with a millionaire brewer, who called himself a socialist.

Good Morning

BY LOUIE D. NEWTON.

I am to leave this morning, Providence permitting, for Toronto, Canada, where I am scheduled to spend the whole of some six hours and deliver two addresses to some Baptist friends, for there are no people in the provinces of the Dominion. I am always happy over the prospect of a return visit to that lovely land to the north of us—a territory existing in area the United States and Alaska and nearly equal to that of all Europe. The word Canada comes from an Iroquois word, kanada, meaning cabin.

Whether one sees Canada from the ship as it glides along the St. Lawrence, or from the palatial transcontinental trains that cover the 2,700 miles from ocean to ocean, or from the planes that fly like homing birds across the great plains, or, best of all, from leisurely motor travel along the rigidly policed highways—whatever way he takes the motorist in Canada, you will enjoy the vast sweep of the majestic fields and noble forests. More than one-sixth of the entire area of the Dominion is water. Green lakes, indeed, are they in Canada, with islands, that lift their fringed palms of peace and tranquillity.

In all that vast area there are only some eight millions plus population, not so much more than are hurled in our melting pot in New York City. No wonder they are so peaceful and serene. No wonder they are so full of "great courage and sustained vision. They have a goodly land, and much territory yet to occupy.

The low percentage of illiteracy, the widespread respect for law, the universal courtesy of the people, the wealth of natural resources, the beauty of the fields and forests and streams, the staidness of the cities and the stability of the rural life, these and many other qualities of our trusted and confirmed neighbors of the Dominion provide a lasting source of satisfaction to every thoughtful citizen of our beloved nation.

Usual Threat.

"And if I refuse you, Cecil, will you commit suicide?"
"Well, that has been my usual custom."

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS FAIR ENOUGH
BY PAUL MALLON.

SELF-GENERATION WASHINGTON, April 28.—The best story about business today is that there is no story. Nothing extraordinary appears to be behind the better federal statistics. No unusual situations have stirred an extra vigor in the spring rise. Merely the cumulative effects of improvement seem to be involved in the better figures for April, which will be out in a few days. The tendency of self-acceleration is working on the way up as it did on the way down.

Thus, a thousand little things rather than dominant factors appear to be working industrial production up to about 97 per cent of normal currently, as may be seen in the following table.

CHART The figures are collected by the government from various official and private agencies, and all are official except the current month, which is estimated.

Each figure represents the percentage of normal existing at the times stated, with the average years of 1923-25, inclusive, being considered 100 per cent, except for the price index, which is based on 1926 as 100.

Note the extent to which building construction and freight traffic are out of line with general business, as represented by production. Also note the way other factors are lagging from the 100 per cent line.

INDUSTRY The four-month level of production around 95 per cent indicates that the wide resurging of the durable goods industries which began late last fall. Reciprocity increases centered in steel, automobiles and building materials.

The operation of steel mills at around 70 per cent of normal is not due entirely to greater automobile demand, but also to increased demand from railroads and building. The first four months of automobile production this year will be higher than last, in spite of the fact that the new models were brought out in October this season instead of in January as usual. The auto market is standing up. Building, while still less than normal, is nevertheless showing employment gains.

Another thing, the April increase was entirely in the manufacturing phase of production, and not in the mining phase, which showed a slight decrease.

In other words, it all looks real.

NOTES A close connection seems to exist between the employment index and department store sales. You will notice both are estimated at exactly 86 per cent for April. They have kept close to each other during the depression.

Behind the stability of the price index is the fact that manufacturing and industrial prices have not changed in the aggregate during the last few months.

The flood and the drop in coal production after the cold spell are what caused the dip in freight car loadings during March.

WARNING A general European peace agreement is expected in the near future. It will involve Great Britain, France and Germany and will probably be hailed as a new era. The hope here is that Hitler will be willing to sign a peace agreement in which many pledges are made, even concerning the eastern frontier. His idea will be to maintain Britain's friendship and avoid any drastic action by France. The way is now being quietly cleared for bargaining over such an agreement.

But, even if Hitler swears it, no one here will believe he has abandoned his eastern hopes. Treaties have been made before—and broken. The time when he will move eastward is still problematical. His last Rhineland move was made to offset a dangerous situation developing between the radical and conservative elements among the Nazis and unrest among the German people. This is not French propaganda. Trustworthy confidential advisers say such a situation actually existed.

When his domestic situation dictates again and when the foreign situation is quiet, Hitler will move and move eastward, no matter how many treaties are signed. He may be able to avoid it for a year, and then again he may not.

RULE CHANGE Thrift may always be a virtue in the copybooks, but not in the relations of the citizen and the government.

Veterans have found that, if they borrowed 50 per cent on their bonus and paid no interest, all the interest due since September 30, 1931, is canceled. But if they paid the interest they owed after that date, they get no credit whatever.

A veteran who borrowed 50 per cent in 1931 and put it out at interest could have picked up about $150 on the deal.

SILHOUETTES
BY RALPH T. JONES.

Did you ever watch the autos streaming down the road?
The flashing, dashing vehicles,
As the endless river flowed.

For it's hunk, hunk here,
And toot, toot there,
And a close-grazed death,
With an inch to spare.

Private cars and buses
And overburdened trucks,
All hurrying to somewhere
Like a line of honking ducks.

For it's hurry up there,
Get along ahead,
If we can't beat your time
We might as well be dead.

All intent on getting
From here to some far place;
I wonder is it worth it,
This fevered, senseless race?

For it's hunk, hunk here,
And toot, toot there—
Driving is more joy, by far,
With a little time to spare.

What's Wrong With Opera?
"There are two things about opera I don't like," she said after her visit to the Fox last Friday and Saturday.
"One is the people in the seats behind you who talk during the performance."
"And the other?"
"The fact that the people in the seats in front of you talk during the performance."

She Dislikes Hill-Billy Bands.
An Atlanta of the fair sex has written this column several times trying to start a campaign for the elimination of these so-called "hill-billy bands" on the radio. She says she dislikes 'em anyway, but can say away from their performances in the flesh, it is only when all they sometimes catch her unaware.

Her latest letter, written last Monday, makes particular complaint of the habit these so-called entertainers have of singing 20 or more verses to their vocal arrangements. "We can generally grasp their meaning in at most, two verses," she writes, "and even if we don't quite get it all, does it matter?" There is much to be said for the lady's complaint but, after all, one can always change stations or turn off the radio.

That's what I do when hill-billy performers come on the air.

Strange Ideas About Dogwood.
Strangers to dogwood who came to Atlanta last week, if they knew much about trees and if they examined closely the artificial dogwood blooms which were so freely displayed up and down the city streets, must have gotten some peculiar ideas about Atlanta's famous blossoms.

They must have thought that the dogwood blooms on any old sort of tree, perhaps as a sort of local parasite.

That's Telling Him!
For two hours he has been the past of the party. His limitations were terrible, ranging anywhere from George Arliss to a hummingbird. In the far corner had been sitting the man with the screwed-up face.

"What would you like to see me imitate now?" asked the bore.
The man roared. He spoke. "How about ground hog that's seen his shadow?"

The King Free of All Restraint Can Seldom Restrain Himself
By ROBERT QUILLEN.

There are "hard guys" who face death by electrocution or hanging without a sign of remorse or repentance, but normal people are humbled and brought to their knees by the fear of death and disaster.

A folk proverb of ancient England tells the story in one line.

If you are the ordinary individual, you live in cheerful and thoughtless defiance of your own standards of right so long as you prosper and keep your health; but when you take to your bed, sick and weak and helpless, you repent of your sins and resolve to mend your ways.

But alas! a virtue caused by sickness cannot outlive the cause; and once you are on your feet, the danger is forgotten and you live as you did before.

Ages of sad experience have shown that weak human nature cannot bear prosperity.

While man struggles with poverty and adversity, he walks humbly and fears God; but when he prospers and fattens in security and abundance, he decides that he doesn't need God; ruins himself by follies and excesses; and feels superior to those who are still kept humble and safe by adversity.

His character is a weak and pathetic thing if it cannot survive a little ease, a little luxury and a few play-pretties. He clamors for liberty, yet can neither control nor behave himself when he escapes the restraining authority of poverty.

That is the tragedy of nations, as of individuals—striving endlessly to win prosperity, security and ease that soften and corrupt and destroy when they are won.

Such a paradox seems contrary to nature's usually sanity, but the tale is not yet finished. There are sane and solid men unspooled by success. And as a child cannot be trusted with money, yet later learns to use it wisely, so our race, as it matures, will acquire the wisdom to abolish poverty and endure prosperity without hurt to its sanity or character.

In the meantime the threatened individual may save himself by realizing his danger and praying: "I am about to become prosperous. Don't let it make a fool of me."

HEALTH TALKS Urges Unregistered Voters To Qualify As Patriotic Duty

BY DR. WILLIAM BRADY

From evidence obtained in thousands of postmortem investigations we know that many persons who have gallstones suffer from effect. Scouts and public utility hunters from the big clinics hate to have this fact bandied about, but I'm telling you folks, and I hope you'll remember I told you, after I'm humped off, I have just made a general survey of the undercover campaign to silence the scoundrel who conducts this column, and I have a forerunner. I have just made a general narrow escape; eventually they will get me if I don't pipe down. But I have thought and thought about it and come to the conclusion that I should pipe down, so—

One woman had a severe attack of gallstone colic in her forties. She managed to get to the hospital in the morning, but the big clinic scouts and public utility hunters and many of them in the big city had no further trouble for a space of thirty years. Then she had another attack. She is now a high-bred and has never had any dyspepsia. Dyspepsia is the most constant complaint of persons who have chronic gall-bladder trouble with or without stones; and many of them are perverted about it—they just keep on complaining of dyspepsia for years and years until one despairs of catching them with a candid cat or any other symptom sufficient to convict.

A theory which has possibilities but never gets us anywhere is that foods containing considerable cholesterol or cholesterol, whichever sounds better, favor the development of gall-bladder inflammation and gallstones. Foods rich in fat, cream, butter, eggs, yolks, butter, cream and calf's brain, and liver. But to influence gallstone formation a cholesterol-poor diet would have to be maintained from now on, for a single lapse might result in formation of a stone. I am quoting this from a current authority. Personally, I'd as lief have a stone. After all, there are lots of worse things than an operation.

When contemplating what I should say in this article—I do my best contemplating what I should say in this article; for years I've been trying to contemplate while doing my belly breathing exercise, but it is quite impossible, I find, so I have to say it in a few words. I should outline a few of the special diets recommended by eminent authorities, but when it comes right down to it, really I'd rather not say a word about it. I may be, but withal tender-hearted and even sympathetic, in a way. If you will pardon the omission of specific diets I'll be glad to answer to the best of my ability any specific queries you may make bearing on that subject provided you spare me pages of history.

Honestly I believe practically all we need to know about the relation of diet to gall bladder trouble and gallstones may be summed up in a few brief sentences:

1. Habitual overeating is a factor.
2. Eating too much at an occasional gorge is a factor.
3. Excessive use of condiments, hot sauces is a factor.
4. A diet containing too great a proportion of refined or manufactured foods and too small a proportion of fresh vegetables, greens and fruits is a factor.

It is to be sure, the President of the university took it lying down, but, for a student of the old-fashioned type, he hadn't been that kind he wouldn't have received Huey's appointment in the first place.

The students, however, belong to the class in which Mr. Byers has great regard. But though they studied within sight and sound of the Louisiana state capitol and, with their intelligence, must have known what was going on there, the students gladly went whopping along as a balcony party when Huey took to the road with the football team to make political demonstrations in Tennessee and Mississippi.

A few jobs, a few dollars, a bushel or two of ham-on-rye and a few crates of soda pop were all it took to deliver the citizenship of Mr. Byers' generation to the state.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS
VISIT MARKETS HERECollege of Agriculture Class Spend 'Day of Observation in Atlanta Markets.

Twenty-five student farmers from the University of Georgia Agricultural College studied the intricacies of Atlanta's mercantile centers yesterday to see if the theories in their textbooks are considered practical along Produce Row. It was the first "supplementary class," and after a day of hearing practical talks by merchants and government officials, professors and students alike determined to make the trip an annual affair.

Colonel George A. Dunagin, in charge of the Cotton News Service Bureau, United States Department of Agriculture, arranged sightseeing trips and brief talks by Atlanta merchants and federal agricultural officials.

The students, members of a class in marketing agricultural products, came under the direction of Professor J. William Florio, head of the department of rural organization and management, and J. William Fanning and Dr. Wade P. Young, of the same department.

"How agricultural products are marketed for domestic and foreign purposes is what these students are interested in," Colonel Dunagin said. "They are supplementing their classroom and laboratory work."

"Atlanta, since it is the trade center of the southeast, has excellent facilities for students to study. It illustrates all the basic marketing functions in moving raw products from the farm to factories and consumers both here and abroad."

Students took the day one of "practical observation and instruction." Plans will be made, it was said, for a similar trip next year.

FOUR PERSONS KILLED

BY TEXAS TORNADOES

ROCKDALE, Texas, April 23.—(AP)—Two persons were killed by a tornado which ripped through a farming section six miles northwest of Rockdale during a heavy rain and hailstorm today.

A negro woman and her grown son, living on the Simms ranch northwest of Rockdale, were killed by the tornado, which struck at 2 a. m. Several persons were injured. Three houses on the ranch were demolished and several others blown from foundations.

Another twister struck Cuero, about 125 miles south of Rockdale, injuring six persons. Several houses were blown from their foundations.

Two negroes were killed and several persons injured by a tornado which struck the eastern part of Wharton county.

Bishop Outlines Work of Presiding Elders' Council at Weekly Meeting.

Members of the A. M. E. Ministers' Association of the Greater Atlanta area met yesterday in regular session at the Big Bethel church with the Rev. H. M. Parker, presiding and the Rev. H. C. Carswell serving as secretary.

The religious exercises were conducted by the Rev. W. R. Wilkes and music was furnished by members of the Holmes Institute, singing plantation melodies.

The annual Mothers' Day sermon was delivered at the meeting yesterday because a large group of the members will be out of the city Mothers' Day attending the general conference of the church union. The sermon was delivered by Dr. B. R. Holmes, president of the Holmes Institute, who took as his text the 66th chapter, 10th verse of Isaiah, "The Unfailing Mother."

Bishop W. A. Fountain in his weekly address discussed the work of the presiding elders' council and the executive board meeting held recently. He also outlined the work accomplished under his administration for the last four years, revealing that the membership had increased to 88,043, with 12,840 converts and 24,861 accessions.

Funds received during the period totaled $108,344, an increase of $7,166.38, the report revealed.

The Rev. C. A. Wingfield, transportation chairman for the general conference, reported that arrangements to attend the sessions had been completed and the group will leave at 1:05 o'clock in the afternoon of May 4.

The permanency of Morris Brown College was discussed, with President W. A. Fountain pointing out that many white friends had agreed to assist the institution.

The current events committee reported the Revs. H. C. Terrell, pastor of the Cain Street chapel, and S. T. Turner, pastor of the Fairfield A. M. E. church, Cobb county, had registered as 100 per cent pastors.

Bishop Fountain was honored by the union in recognition of his services as bishop of Georgia for the last eight years.

CUTTEN IS INDICTED
ON 2D EVASION COUNT

CHICAGO, April 23.—(AP)—Charged last month with attempting to evade $414,315 in 1929 income taxes, Arthur W. Cutten, Chicago grain trader, was accused by the federal grand jury in a second indictment today with attempting to evade $229,944.66 in 1930 and 1931.

The new indictment's two counts charged Cutten attempted to evade payments of $58,579.75 on a gross 1930 income of $792,850.21, and a net income of $234,598.76, and payments of $171,364.91 on a gross 1931 income of $568,891.13 and a net of $529,990.23.

Today's true bill raised the total evasion charged against the trader to $644,460. It put his income for three years under scrutiny.

EX-PARTNER OF RITTER
RESIGNS COUNTY POST

WEST PALM BEACH, April 23.—(AP)—A. L. Rankin, Palm Beach county attorney for more than three years, and one-time law partner of former Federal Judge Halstead L. Ritter, resigned his county position today.

No reason was assigned, either by Rankin's formal letter of resignation, or by comment from the county commission in accepting the resignation, but it was seen as an aftermath of which Rankin figured prominently as a witness. Relations between Rankin and Ritter after dissolution of their law firm here were cited in the charges against the deposed federal judge.

The county commission accepted Rankin's resignation without comment.

SEC. ICKES INDORSES
PUERTO RICAN BILL

WASHINGTON, April 23.—(AP)—The Tydings bill offering independence to Puerto Rico was endorsed today by Secretary Ickes, who indicated, however, that the administration may agree to modifications demanded by island leaders.

"I think it's a good bill," the interior secretary said, "because it will give the people of Puerto Rico an opportunity to decide whether they want independence."

Noted Jonker Diamond
Is Split Into 3 Pieces

NEW YORK, April 23.—(AP)—The eyes of Lazare Kaplan, diamond cutter, shone with happy tears today as he told how he performed the biggest job of his career—the first clearing of the Jonker diamond.

The 120-carat gem which was yesterday the world's largest and finest uncut diamond, is now in three pieces. Later these will be split into 12, which the owner hopes to see sold in a $2,000,000 necklace.

It was Kaplan's task to tap the uncut jewel, which Jacobus Jonker found in a South African mine, with a brass hammer and sever it for the first time—an operation so delicate that even the owner, Harry Winston, wouldn't look on.

The diamond fell apart perfectly.

WEEK'S SIEGE IS ENDED
BY JERSEY'S JOBLESSImmediate Passage of Relief Bill Is Described as Doubtful.

TRENTON, N. J., April 23.—(AP)—New Jersey's embattled unemployed ended a week's occupation of the state-house today as legislative leaders met in an all-day conference in a desperate effort to break a four-month deadlock on emergency relief financing.

The legislature, which adjourned abruptly last night after one of the unemployed leaders created a furore by calling an assemblyman a liar, will reconvene tomorrow, but immediate passage of any revenue legislation was doubtful.

Leaders were prepared to hold both houses in session until relief measures of some kind were passed.

The continued opposition of the democratic minority and of the Bergen republican delegation of five to new taxes left little prospect the split republican majority could muster enough votes for a tax bill of any scope.

John Spain Jr., the group's presiding officer, said the days of burlesque were over, and the group had serious business ahead.

Republican legislative leaders, meeting in a clubhouse two blocks away for a closed conference, considered a plan under which the state would assume many costs now borne by municipalities.

CITY CHAMBER
SEIZED BY JOBLESS

ST. LOUIS, April 23.—(AP)—Fifty unemployed men and women settled down today in gallery seats in the chamber of the board of aldermen, determined, their leader said, "to stay here until hell freezes over or until we get relief."

The decision to camp in the city hall came as the board adjourned without taking any action to increase the city's monthly relief appropriation of $147,000.

A noisy demonstration broke out among 200 persons who packed the galleries when it became apparent the aldermen would adjourn.

As the aldermen retired from the chambers, the crowd in the gallery began singing the "Internationale," "John Brown's Body," "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground," and finally began shouting for some sort of organization.

VOCATIONAL MEASURE IS PASSED BY SENATE

WASHINGTON, April 23.—(AP)—A bill authorizing an appropriation of $12,000,000 a year beginning with July 1, 1937, for expansion of the federal-state vocational educational service was passed today by the senate and sent to the house.

The bill, introduced by Senator George, democrat, Georgia, drew a protest from Senator King, democrat, Utah, that it was stepping toward "centralization" of government and weakening of state government.

Senator Robinson, democrat, Arkansas, the majority leader, replied that it was "wholesome and helpful" and made urgently necessary by increasing need of educating young and old alike in vocational courses.

The bill passed without a record vote.

'INFORMER' FOR POLICE
IS HINTED IN LASHING

Testimony Holds City Fireman Attended Meets of Young Democrats.

BARTOW, Fla., April 23.—(AP)—Strong intimations that the Tampa police department planted a "stool pigeon" in the ranks of the modern democrats, a free member of which were tarred and feathered last November, were introduced by the prosecution today at the trial of seven former policemen in connection with the floggings.

Testimony developed that J. A. McCaskill, a city fireman, attended the meeting of the modern democrats which the police raided without a warrant, that he was taken to headquarters with the others who were rounded up, that he was docketed with them but that his name later was scratched out of the book and that of "C. R. Sauls," substituted.

Four members of the coalition political organization who already have appeared as state witnesses said they never saw McCaskill again after that night.

The state completed its case of circumstantial evidence this morning and the defense rested with testimony of the accused. The state contended the brothers fatally beat Weaver after robbing him of about $50.

SLAYING IN FLORIDA

MIAMI, Fla., April 23.—(AP)—Jasper Walker, former Blackbeard, Ga. youth, answered with an emphatic "No, sir!" when asked in circuit court here today if he killed David J. Weaver, elderly iron worker, for whose death Jasper and his brother, Albert, are on trial for first-degree murder.

The question was suddenly shot at the 24-year-old Georgian by Judge H. F. Atkins as he concluded his witness stand story of the movements of his brother and himself on the September, 1935, night when Weaver was beaten to death, and his body thrown into the Coral Gables canal.

Following him upon the stand, Albert Walker, 23, also denied the charge.

Kelley Holds Browns to Six Hits to Take Second Game, 4-2

RED HOSE BLAST FOUR WHITE SOX HURLERS, 11 TO 8

Tigers Beat Senators,
8-1; Ruffing Shuts Out
Indians, 2-0.

NEW YORK, April 28.—(UP)—The Boston Red Sox moved into a virtual tie with the American league-leading Cleveland Indians today with an 11-8 victory over the Chicago White Sox while the Indians dropped a 2-to-0 decision to the New York Yankees.

The western invaders were given a poor reception by the eastern American league hosts, with the Tigers the only club to manage a victory.

In a free-hitting game the Red Sox outslug the White Sox, getting to four Chicago hurlers for 16 hits while the White Sox secured 13 off a trio of Boston pitchers. Jimmy Fox in his fourth homer of the season, along with a double and a single, Dykes and Knepper homered for Chicago.

RUFFING IN FORM. Charlie Ruffing pitched a masterful game for the Yankees, limiting the Indians to four hits. Lou Gehrig hit his third home run of the season, one of nine safeties allowed by Lloyd Brown, who went the route.

Detroit continued its winning streak by defeating the Washington Senators 8-1. Hank Greenberg, who tied with Jimmy Fox for the league home run leadership last year, connected for his first home run of the season today. Joe Sullivan pitched the whole game for Detroit, allowing eight hits.

The St. Louis Browns retained exclusive right to the cellar by dropping a 4-to-2 decision to the Philadelphia Athletics. Rookie Harry Kelly, from Atlanta, held the Browns to six hits, one a homer by Julius Solters. Russ Peters, young pitcher of the Browns, led three of the Athletics' runs with a homer and a triple.

TWO RAINED OUT. Two of the most important National league games—New York at St. Louis and Brooklyn at Chicago—were rained out, but second place Cincinnati retained its position despite dropping a 6-to-2 decision to the Boston Bees, its last position. Ray Benge received credit for the victory, his third straight. The Bees stung Paul Derringer with 14 hits.

The Philadelphia Phillies overcame a six-run lead and clubbed three Pittsburgh batters for 17 hits to finally win out 9 to 7. The Phillies led the Phil's attack with five hits, including a home run and a double.

ATHLETICS 4; BROWNS 2. ST. LOUIS, April 28.—(AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics defeated the St. Louis Browns 4 to 2 today. The Athletics won the game in the eighth inning, 4 to 2, on a home run by Harry Kelly. The Browns scored three runs in the first inning, but the Athletics' defense held them to six hits.

RED SOX 11; WHITE SOX 8. CHICAGO, April 28.—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox defeated the Chicago White Sox 11 to 8 today. The Red Sox scored six runs in the first inning, and the White Sox scored three runs in the first inning. The game was a high-scoring affair, with the Red Sox leading 11 to 8 at the end of the game.

DETROIT 8; WASHINGTON 1. DETROIT, April 28.—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers defeated the Washington Senators 8 to 1 today. The Tigers scored six runs in the first inning, and the Senators scored one run in the first inning. The game was a one-sided affair, with the Tigers leading 8 to 1 at the end of the game.

ST. LOUIS 2; PHILADELPHIA 4. ST. LOUIS, April 28.—(AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics defeated the St. Louis Browns 4 to 2 today. The Athletics scored three runs in the first inning, and the Browns scored two runs in the first inning. The game was a close contest, with the Athletics leading 4 to 2 at the end of the game.

CHICAGO 2; BOSTON 11. CHICAGO, April 28.—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox defeated the Chicago White Sox 11 to 8 today. The Red Sox scored six runs in the first inning, and the White Sox scored three runs in the first inning. The game was a high-scoring affair, with the Red Sox leading 11 to 8 at the end of the game.

Grant Comes Home From Latest Victory

Cup Bid Missing But Is Asked to Team Practice at Merion, Washington.

By Ralph McGill.

Bryan (Betsy) Grant, the Giant Killer, arrived in Atlanta bright and early yesterday morning. The Davis cup committee, stunned by his magnificent victory over Don Budge at White Sulphur Springs last Sunday, had intended Grant would be sent to Wimbledon and Paris as a tournament player. But as yet no word has come as to his appointment on the team.

Grant had little to say. He lost the first two sets and then came on to win the next three from the favored Californian, Grant had only this comment:

"I guess I got the breaks."

MORE THAN BREAKS. It should be noted, however, that one does not win a tennis match with the breaks but with tennis. Especially after spotting the other fellow the first two sets.

Grant said he knew nothing of the Davis cup plans except that he had been asked to report to the Merion Cricket Club on May 11 when the cup team will begin its training. He is, of course, a member of the squad, having played against Mexico.

Play at Merion will be on turf. Grant was good enough to be ranked fourth in the United States on turf last year. On clay, he was No. 1.

GAME UNCERTAIN. "I don't know what my game will be on turf," he said. "It wasn't so bad last year. This year it might be better or worse. I'll have to wait and see."

Grant came home despite the request of the Davis cup committee that he come to Washington next week where there is a little unofficial Davis cup doubles tournament to be played. Grant feared the committee might be a little hurt at his failure to accompany the other players to Washington.

"I felt the need of some rest," he said. "I may yet go to Washington if the Southern Association officials wish it. Which they likely will."

LEAVES TODAY. Which will mean that Betsy Grant will be going to the nation's capital to depart some time today for the Davis cup team to satisfy the whim of the committee.

At any rate, whether picked on the cup team or not, he is sure to be sent to Europe as a tournament player. And he may be named on the cup team.

His smashing victories over Budge, two of them in the space of a few days, have forced that much for him. The Giant Killer has come to be a national issue. With seemingly every one demanding he be given his chance.

TOMORROW'S CHILD

By JULIE ANNE MOORE

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.

Val Clarke, who used to be a young New England lawyer, went to New York from New Manchester, on a shopping trip with Mrs. Warren, his aunt Mahalia's housekeeper. Val's cousin, Kate Hollister, editor of a fashion magazine, asks her to a party where she meets a host of people, including a young playboy, Hugh Malcolm, successful young playwright, and a New Manchester boy who while doing newspaper work in New York writes a best seller, Leslie Crawford, Bret's half-brother, and Winifred Sperry, who are starting in Hugh's "End of Tears," and Guy Williams, who inherited millions and has a small part in the play. Bret was engaged to Kate but married wealthy Evelyn Garfield. There is hard feeling between Bret and Leslie over an inheritance and Leslie resents Hugh's attention to Winifred. Guy asks Val to go to Pete's place, which she thinks is near by. At Pete Gallo's, the outside Philadelphia, Guy is greeted with kisses by Louise Cameron—"Leslie to you," Guy says in his introduction. Leslie drags him off to dance, leaving Val with Cranford Scott. When they meet later in the dining room Leslie strikes Val with a mountain ash but Val is certain he has been killed. Now GO ON WITH THE STORY.

INSTALLMENT X.

Leslie himself gave the signal for the climatic electrical display by putting his spread fingers on the window ledge. It was, as always, prearranged. The assistant director standing beside Leslie lifted his arm when Leslie's fingers touched the ledge, his arm cut down and the deafening crash followed. Every one in the room knew the signal, knew it was timed to the fraction of a second.

"For a moment I was too startled to think," Kate said, her fingers working nervously. Then the assistant director put a hand on her arm and she looked up and saw him grinning. When she turned to the window again, the stage was dark, as it was supposed to be. Then the lights came on and a moment later there was a cry of "Curtain . . ."

As the curtain rose, Kate and the assistant director moved up to the window and saw Leslie lying in the middle of the stage. "No one seems to know where Winifred came from. She says she had just come from her dressing room and had seen Leslie through the side window of the cabin. There were only two windows. The first we knew she was on the stage screaming . . ."

It had fallen to Hugh to announce to the audience that "an unforeseen circumstance has made it impossible to continue the play."

A doctor was called, but Leslie was dead when he arrived. "Death," the doctor had told them gravely, "was instantaneous—he was shot through the heart."

The preliminary police investigation had been a systematic and tedious affair. They had questioned every one, individually and out of hearing of the others and had learned exactly nothing for the reason, Kate said, that no one was telling the truth.

"Theater people are clannish, Val, and they'll protect one another at any cost. That's why I asked those of our own group to come here. The police took all our names and our addresses and warned us not to leave the night before."

She gave him both her hands in a gesture of both greeting and apology. "You won't mind if I stay only a minute? The train leaves in less than an hour and there's still a little packing to do. And then I'll see you in the depths of his soft gray eyes that checked her haste. Quickly she asked, "Has anything developed?"

He shook his head, slowly. "Not yet," he said. "The firework have been deferred pending your departure. And don't let me get in the way. I'm here in the humble capacity of chauffeur—and to get in a few words on my own account while we drive to the station."

When she came back, he said, "I must say I don't understand the reason for the stage. There's a train to New Manchester every hour, isn't there?"

"Not for me," Val said. "This particular train will be met and if I'm not on it, they'll call out the G-men."

"They're meaning Aunt Mahalia?"

"They're meaning Aunt Mahalia and a very nice young man."

"Oh, I see. Not a casual comment, that, but a realization of something he hadn't considered. And what will the very nice young man and Aunt Mahalia say about the scratched face and the purple eye, I wonder?"

Val laughed, holding her face in his hands. "If I tell the truth, I'll probably be thrown out of the street. One of the quaint notions in New Manchester is that only a certain sort of women settle their differences with their fists."

"I can understand Aunt Mahalia holding that view," he said nodding; "but the nice young man—?"

"He and Aunt Mahalia have a lot in common. I'm afraid. And what makes it difficult is that I lie very clumsily."

"In other words, when they ask you what happened, you will say, nonchalantly, 'Oh, just a little fist fight with another dame. Over a man, of course.'"

Violet appeared in the hall doorway. "Miss Val, say she's ready any time you like, Miss Val."

Val nodded, waited until the maid had withdrawn. "Hugh—suddenly grave—"I don't want to discuss this in front of Mrs. Warren, but—in

TRANS-ATLANTIC PHONE CALLS ARE NOT MADE OVER TELEPHONE WIRES

The popular opinion is that telephone calls are made between the United States and London by means of telephone cables on the bottom of the ocean. The truth is that these calls cross the ocean by radio rather than by wires. A man's voice is carried from New York to Rocky Point, L. N. by wires, then by radio across the ocean to Cupar, Scotland. Here the voice is amplified again and transmitted by wires to London. The returning voice goes from London to Rugby, England; then by radio to a receiving station at Houlton, Maine, and on to New York by wires.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

WAYS OF AFRICAN LIONS.

III—How Natives Killed Lions.

In South Africa live tribesmen of several kinds, including Bantu, Hotentots, Pigmies and Bushmen. Many of these natives are wandering lives and take care of herds of cattle and other livestock.

If there had been only the one man there, he surely would have been killed, but his comrades came speeding to his help. Dozens of spears were thrust into the lion's body, and it fell dead. The man who first had dared the lion had been bitten in the right shoulder, but he lived to tell the tale. His name was Bambaleli.

That was only one of several times that Bambaleli and his comrades dared to hunt lions in that way. They proved that men with only simple weapons could be more than a match for a strong, quick-moving lion.

Bushman of the Kalahari district had another method of hunting lions. They would make arrows with barbed bone tips, and each tip was smeared with poison.

Getting in a band, these Bushmen would creep up toward a lion which was lying asleep. Then from a safe distance one of them would fire an arrow. The sting of the barb might hurt the lion more than the bite of an insect, but we are told that the deadly poison with which the tip was smeared always brought death "on the third day."

Milton Player Family To Observe PERSONALS May 5 as Day of Prime Importance

By Sally Forth.

TUESDAY, May 5, will be a date of momentous importance in the home of the Milton Players, and plans for a triple celebration are under way. You see, it was on that date three years ago that Miss Lillie Key became the bride of Milton Player. Just one year later, on May 5, 1934, their elder son, Milton Jr., was born. On May 5, 1935, their second son, James Edward, first saw the light of day.

So you can readily see how May 5 has become the most important of all the calendar days in the Player family. So next Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Player will celebrate their third wedding anniversary, and small blue-eyed Milton Jr. and black-eyed James Edward will be very gay over their first and second birthday anniversaries.

There will be a huge three-story cake. On the top tier will be a single lighted taper for James Edward's one year of age. On the second layer, which will be slightly larger, will burn two candles for Milton Jr. And on the third and largest layer, Mrs. Player will light three tapers in honor of her three years of married life.

The former Miss Key took her marriage vows in the study of the Rev. S. A. Cowan, pastor of the Euclid Avenue Baptist church. In the same setting several years previously, her sister, Margaret Thomas, had become the bride of Edward Estes, of Danville, Va. On Mr. Estes' birthday and just two short days before their third wedding anniversary, young Ed Jr. was born.

The proud grandmother of the trio of anniversary children is Mrs. Pearl V. Key, who will be an honor guest, of course, at next Tuesday's triple celebration.

MRS. ROBERT C. DUNCAN is an unusually attractive bride who recently established residence in Atlanta. She is blessed with more than her share of magnetism and discernment, and brought these qualifications to the fore last week. She parked her automobile on a yellow line which was so faint that Mrs. Duncan thought she had parking privileges on a certain block on Marietta street. When she returned to her car the newcomer to the city found a copy of charges which ordered her to appear before the traffic court next day.

Terribly frightened, but with her mind made up to confess her sins and not to buck "the law," Mrs. Duncan went to court to take her medicine. She cast her big brown eyes upon the officer and made no denial that her car was parked on the yellow line. She confessed, in her most charming manner, that she had been recently married and that she had been in Atlanta only a few weeks. Needless to say, the beautiful northerner captivated "the law," and the charges were dismissed pronto.

WHEN the Sage twins, Mary and Margaret, departed for Hollywood they left Woggie, their Maltese terrier, in care of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Love. Woggie is an intelligent animal and understands every word he hears. Mrs. Love vouches for the story published today in the Sally Forth column.

Woggie has been taught to sing and, will you believe it, he sings "The Music Goes 'Round and 'Round," to the amusement of his audience! Mr. and Mrs. Love have been urged to enter Woggie on a certain Sunday night amateur hour, to compete with some of the famous animals that have appeared on the nationally known program.

Delphian Society.

Members of Beta chapter, Delphian Society, will meet today at 10 o'clock in Habersham hall, D. A. R. chapter house. The president, Mrs. C. C. Harrison, will preside.

Mrs. W. S. Johns will conduct the study lesson, which consists of the analysis of "A Dramatic Romance and a Modern Epic." The Flight of the Duchess, one of Robert Browning's most beautiful poems, will be given by Mrs. Lee Wisdom. Mrs. L. Kirkland will explain how the story of the "Flight of the Duchess" is made significant by the characters in it. Miss Lily Allen will give the substance of "The Old Gypsy's Speech" to the duchess. The first book of some of the famous animals that have appeared on the nationally known program.

Tau Phi Lambda.

Tau Phi Lambda Club of the Woodmen Circle, Maple Grove No. 86, Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle, will sponsor a bridge party May 1 at 8 o'clock at the Ansley hotel circle room. Reservations may be made by phoning Jenny L. Malone at Raymond 4716. Many useful and attractive prizes have been donated.

A regular business session of the Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle, Maple Grove No. 86, will be held April 30 at the wigwam. There will be initiation of candidates, and the Dora Alexander Talley guards will assist in the ritualistic work of the organization.

Mrs. Harmon Honors Visitors at Tea.

Mrs. Howard B. Harmon will entertain at tea this afternoon at her Habersham road residence in compliment to her guests, Mrs. Gregory Oliver, of New York, and Mrs. Peter MacDowell, of Chicago.

The hostess will be assisted in entertaining by Mrs. D. Elie McCord, Mrs. Herbert Oliver, Mrs. Thomas Miller, Mrs. Dan Byrd and Mrs. B. T. Carter. Mr. and Mrs. Oliver are spending this week as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon. Their hosts entertained at the aperitif hour on Monday in their honor, inviting a group of the married contingent to meet them.

The home was beautifully decorated for the occasion with quantities of rare-colored garden flowers. The table in the dining room was covered with an imported lace cloth and graced in the center with a green pottery bowl filled with yellow lilies, blue delphinium, pink roses, lavender stock and white iris. Tall blue tapers burning in silver holders were other lovely details of decoration.

Assisting the hosts in entertaining were Mr. and Mrs. James C. Malone, Mrs. Howard Motley and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Frederick.

Rose Garden Club.

The Rose Garden Club will meet next week earlier than originally planned, so as not to conflict with other important garden programs. Mrs. William Milas Dunn invites members to her home at 2801 Andrews drive, on Wednesday at 11 o'clock, and Mrs. Fred Conledge Jr. and Mrs. J. W. Speas will be co-hostesses.

By IDA JEAN KAIN.

EXERCISE TRICEPS MUSCLES. Since the modern mother uses child psychology on the problems that tend to land her lap, and runs the house by electricity, the triceps muscles take little exercise.

You may not be worried about the leisure of your triceps, but you are very much concerned over the outcome, which is pendulous shoulders, lousy flesh on the back of the upper arm. Adipose tissue gravitates to the place of least muscular activity, and in modern living the muscles of the upper arm seem to be little used.

Lovely arms are important to beauty, and exercise is necessary to firm contours. Exercises must be devised to take the place of movements eliminated by modern improvements.

In the performance of arm exercises, be remembered that to bring these particular muscles into action the arms must be held in a horizontal position. The following exercise is most effective, not only in beautifying the arms, but also the back and shoulders.

Position: Standing, arms bent at elbows, fingertips placed on shoulders.

Movement: Describe small, backward circles with the tips of the elbows. The backward motion will aid in correcting rounded shoulders.

The following exercise will make (or break) your arms:

Position: Standing two feet from wall, place hands against wall about shoulder height, palms flat and fingertips touching. Keep body in straight line, abdominal muscles pulled up. Do not bend the knees.

Movement: Tilt body forward until forehead touches the wall, just above hands, all the time resisting strongly with the arms. Now, push with the arms as you return to position. The main value of this exercise is in pushing back hard from the wall. Repeat six times, later 12.

The next exercise may be performed with or without benefit of a punching bag.

Position: Standing, feet apart, body bent forward slightly at waist.

Movement: Raise hands to shoulders. Clench fists and thrust alternate arms forcefully out to the front, as in delivering blows. Put some punch into it, and be sure to keep the arms at approximately shoulder level.

Of course, if your fat-laden arms are the price of too many calories, you will want to reduce weight generally while you tone the triceps muscles.

In all figure programs it is highly important to exercise and strengthen these arm muscles, since their natural trend is toward flabbiness. In the loss of any considerable amount of weight this tendency increases unless there is preventive exercise. Send stamped address envelope for the leaflet "Exercise for the Upper Arms and Shoulders."

BEEF TYPE CATTLE ARRIVE HERE TODAY

300 Animals Will Be Exhibited at Stockyards Tomorrow, Friday.

Today there will arrive in Atlanta, the vanguard of 300 or more high-grade, well-bred beef type cattle, raised and fed in Georgia for exhibit at the National Cattle Show to be held tomorrow and Friday.

These cattle will all be on exhibit at the National Stock Yards, 4 Brady avenue, N. W. Thursday at 9 o'clock.

At this time, they will be judged by a committee composed of L. I. Jase, extension animal husbandman at the State College of North Carolina, Raleigh, N. C., and J. R. Hawkins, extension animal husbandman at Clemson College, Clemson College, S. C., and R. S. Sugg, extension animal husbandman, at Auburn, Ala.

Five hundred dollars in prizes, with appropriate cups and ribbons, will be awarded to the winners.

The Atlanta public is invited to inspect these animals, which officials say will refute the impression that good beef originates only in the west.

Friendly Counsel

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column by Miss Chatfield, who has been a nurse for 15 years and is now in charge of the nursing department at the Atlanta Constitution.

Dear Miss Chatfield: We are three friends who are thinking of taking up nursing as a profession. Our parents want us to go to college, but we have enough schooling for the present and we want to do something of our own. Please discuss nursing as a profession for young girls.

THREE CHUMS.

Answer: In these days the first-class hospitals require a girl to have a high school diploma before she matriculates in a hospital training school.

There are a number of things that recommend nursing as a profession to the girl of small means. It is one of the few professions that offers free training with a little pocket change thrown in for good measure. It is certainly an alluring one to the girl whose life is circumscribed by residence in the country or small town.

If in addition to these if she has a keen interest in human nature in the raw it is so much velvet, for human nature in the hospital is like Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden—stripped. Any girl thinking of being a nurse will find entertaining reading in Mary Roberts Rinehart's story of her hospital experience.

Every nurse is not so lucky. But every nurse may count on hard work in long hours, intimate association with every sort of sickness of mind and body, dealing with doctors, patients and families of patients, all of whom are likely to be nervous and touchy at times. When she has finished the drudgery of her training and been schooled in that hard school of self-control, she is prepared for a life of usefulness that few can enjoy.

A good nurse is an angel of mercy. There is music in the rustle of her stiff starched skirts. There is healing balm in her fingers. Her presence inspires hope in her patient's heart when despair has gripped it and comforts the loved ones who stand anxiously by the bedside. She enters the sick chamber as a paid employee and remains there as a friend and comforter. She is a buffer between her patient and that world that frets and annoys. Surely this is compensation for the long hard grind of training, for the sacrifice of the gay good times to which the average young girl thinks she has an inalienable right.

A New Lotion for Hands and for After Shaving, and It Isn't Sticky

By MIGNON.

Very smart producers have put upon the market recently a lotion to match their famous soap of exquisite and very delicate fragrance. The soap is extremely old, but, like all good things, seems to be permanent, as the sales keep up throughout the years, proving better than anything that I can say that it has real worth.

The lotion is marvelous for the hands, and is perfect for an after-shaving lotion for men and women.

The introductory package had a bar of the soap and a bottle of the lotion in a box together. The lotion has that delicate fragrance that has made the soap famous. If you use this soap you really don't need an after-bath toilet water or cologne unless you particularly like to use one.

One nice thing about the lotion is that it dries out quickly so that it doesn't leave you sticky, and doesn't make your face feel greasy.

My advice is for you to try it. You'll be glad you did.

British Parliament Allocates Fund For Possible New Queen and Son

Royal "Pay Roll" Necessitated by Death of King George; Special Sum Provided for Wife and Heir for Edward.

LONDON, April 25.—(P)—A parliamentary committee made financial provision day for a possible new queen of Great Britain and also for a possible son and heir of King Edward VIII.

The civil list of annuities granted to the royal family totals 333,100 pounds (about $2,165,500) under recommendations made by the committee.

This is less by 36,000 pounds annually than during George's reign, but through economies King Edward's annual allowance is increased to 155,000 pounds (about $779,500) so long as he remains unmarried.

Under the committee's proposal 40,000 pounds a year would be set aside to provide for the contingency of the king's marriage. This sum, however, would not be drawn on as long as Edward remains a bachelor.

Other figures, which will be taken up by parliament May 4, included:

For his majesty's privy purse 110,000 pounds; for the king's household allowance 134,000 pounds, and expenses of his household, 152,800 pounds.

King Edward will not draw the 110,000 pounds for his privy purse as long as his revenues from the Duchy of Cornwall remain above $102,000 pounds. Revenues of the Duchy are traditionally administered for the king's natural heir but the estate is now vested in Edward, since there is no Prince of Wales.

Other members of the royal family will receive a total of 194,000 pounds (about $970,000).

The committee recommended that the Duke of York, heir presumptive to the throne, in addition to the 25,800 pounds he now receives, be paid an additional annuity of 25,000 pounds (about $125,000).

A similar sum of 25,000 pounds would be set aside for a possible baby Duke of Cornwall (Prince of Wales), under the committee's report, to be accumulated until he becomes of age.

But will be in the South Bend cemetery with Harry G. Poole in charge.

WINSTON-SALEM FIRM MAY GET PLANT AWARD

City council Monday will be asked to award the contract for construction of the South river disposal plant to the Winston-Salem, N. C., firm.

Under a joint recommendation yesterday of the purchasing and sewer committees.

The plant will be constructed cooperatively by the municipality and PWA, as a part of the $8,000,000 sewer modernization program for the metropolitan area.

DEPUTY J. JORDAN PASSES SUDDENLY

Heart Attack Believed Cause of Death; Funeral Services Tomorrow.

Deputy Sheriff J. W. Jordan, of Fulton county, died yesterday at his residence on Jones road following what was believed to have been a heart attack. He had complained of illness Saturday and yesterday morning reported to his office that he would be unable to come to work. He died shortly after noon.

Mr. Jordan had served under Sheriff James I. Lowry for 16 years and in recent years worked with Deputy Sheriff Lee Whitley in the service of bench warrants issued on new grand jury indictments. He was known to hundreds as "Jenks."

He is a brother of Lieutenant Frank Jordan, veteran member of the Fulton county police force.

Other survivors include another brother, J. H. P. Jordan, and three sisters, Mrs. W. L. Duncan, Mrs. Maggie Berrie and Miss Ella R. Jordan.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the South Bend Methodist church with the Rev. A. Peacock and William Greenway officiating.

Palbearers will be Clarence Buchanan, Lee Whitley, W. G. Smith, J. D. Basmore, O. T. Camp and R. C. McCall.

Burial will be in the South Bend cemetery with Harry G. Poole in charge.
